Doctor calls bizarre phenomenon 'The Pinocchio Effect'

Lying really DOES make your nose grow longer!

IT happened to Pinocchio — and it can happen to you! A study found that your nose grows a little bit each time you tell a lie.

LOS ANGELES — Lying makes your nose grow longer just like Pinocchio's did when he stretched the truth — and a mind-boggling new study proves it!

That's the word from Dr. Wendy McPharr, who conducted the research and found that the noses of adult men and women grew approximately 1/10,000 of an inch each time they told a lie, adding unwanted flesh to their noses in a phenomenon called "The Pinocchio Effect."

By GREGORY TREMONT
Weekly World News

"One ten-thousandth of an inch might not sound like much, but over the course of a person's lifetime, every little bit adds up," the psychologist told reporters.

Dr. McPharr

"If you lie an average of three times a day, for example, you're telling over 1,000 lies a year. Less than 10 years down the road, you'll have 10,000 lies under your belt — and a full inch of flesh and 1998 using 111 men and women aged 32 to 69.

Subjects were wired to a variety of sophisticated instruments, including those designed to measure heart rate, blood pressure, brain waves and electrical activity on the surface of the skin itself.

Unexpectedly high readings of electrical activity at the tip of the nose prompted her to focus on that area.

That's when she found that the nose determine why the nose is stimulated to grow when people lie," said Dr. McPharr. "It might have something to do with increases in blood pressure and heart rate that are known to occur when people lie. It might possibly boost production of growth hormones which, for some unknown reason, specifically affect the nose.

"All I've really been able to prove is that the nose grows an average of 1/10,000 of an inch when adults tell lies. This may or may not be true for children. Until we test them, there's no way to know.

"Oddly enough," she continued, "the magnitude of the lie doesn't seem to have any bearing on the rate of nose growth always takes place no later than 36 hours after the lie is told."

Dr. McPharr is currently seeking funding to continue her research.

"If we can determine the mechanism that causes the growth, we might be able to find ways to speed the healing process in burn and accident victims," she explained. "The implications are quite exciting."

Bible scholars predict PARADISE ON EARTH after the Year 2000!

AMAZING PROPHECIES FOR THE MILLENNIUM

Jesus Christ

By MIKE FOSTER / Weekly World News

The Apocalypse foretold in the Holy Bible will most likely arrive in January of the Year 2000, religious scholars now widely agree — but what will happen after the "Big One" hits?

An intriguing new book, based on prophecies taken from newly discovered portions of centuries-old religious texts known as the Apocrypha, paints a hopeful picture of the world after the End Times.

"After the world is devastated by fire and war as described in biblical prophecy, Jesus will return to Earth in triumph to establish His kingdom here on Earth," declared Bible scholar Dr. Edgar Serell, author of the upcoming book, After the Apocalypse.

"That kingdom will last 1,000 years and will be a virtual paradise."

The ancient texts were written by early Christians, including some of the lesser-known apostles and other followers who knew and spoke with Jesus personally.

But the sacred writings were not included in the New Testament used by most Catholics and Protestants today.

"This is a pity," notes Nashville-based Dr. Serell, "because these obscure texts provide a much more optimistic view of man's future than what is found in the last section of the Bible.

"The Book of Revelation refers in broad terms to the coming of God's kingdom, but doesn't fully flesh out what this wonderful new world will be like."

Here, from the recently discovered texts, are some of the prophecies about the Apocalypse:

† EARTH WILL BE TRANSFORMED INTO A NEW GARDEN OF EDEN

— Most cities will have been reduced to rubble in the Battle of Armageddon, history's final war, and vegetation will quickly overrun the ruins. The world will soon resemble the paradise Adam and Eve lived in, looking "as it was before the fall of man," say prophecies found in the Apocrypha.

† TECHNOLOGY WILL BE ABANDONED

— The sacred prophecies refer to the use of "ox carts" and "torches" after the Second Coming of Jesus. This strongly indicates that modern devices such as automobiles will be rendered useless in the coming Year 1000 debacle.

"Most people who survive Armageddon will live on farms, just as in our great-grandparents' era," said Dr. Serell.

† MAN WILL RETURN TO A UNIVERSAL LANGUAGE

— A single language, imposed by the tyrannical Anti-Christ shortly before the return of Jesus, will be spoken worldwide in the post-apocalyptic era. "It shall be as it was in the days before the Tower of Babel," the sacred texts say. The language will probably be a combination of English and Spanish, Dr. Serell believes.

BLOCKBUSTER NEW BOOK 'AFTER THE APOCALYPSE' TELLS OF THE SECOND COMING of JESUS!

ANGELS from Heaven will come down and take control of Earth, paving the way for Jesus' Second Coming.

Jerusalem, a shining city that will descend from the heavens after Armageddon. The Bible also refers to this city, saying it will be "pure gold." (Revelation 9:17)

† MIRACLES WILL BE COMMONPLACE

— With Jesus and His angels running the planet, events such as the dead suddenly coming back to life and miraculous healings will be everyday occurrences. "Jesus will doubtless use His powers to heal the many individuals who have suffered radiation sickness as a result of the Battle of Armageddon," Dr. Serell says.

† ALL PEOPLE WILL BECOME VEGETARIANS

— As humans become more kindhearted, harming animals will become increasingly unacceptable to the leadership of Jesus and His victorious army of 22,000 angels, people will become more kind, gentle and polite than ever. Violence will be a thing of the past. "There will still be a few bad apples, but they will be few, because everyone will know the teachings of the Bible are true and they will be afraid of going to Hell," said Dr. Serell

Bad news for health nuts!

VEGGIES FEEL PAIN

By CHARLOTTE BEARD
Weekly World News

PHOTOS COURTESY OF DR. ADAM BLAKELY

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — Vegetarians who never eat meat because they don't want animals to suffer had better stop eating fruits and vegetables, too — because plants feel more pain than animals do!

That's the stunning news from researchers who say a freshly picked head of lettuce feels more pain than a calf with a slit throat.

"The scientific community has long had evidence that plants feel very real pain but this is the first time we have conclusively been able to document the pain," Dr. Adam Blakely told a horticulture conference.

Dr. Adam Blakely

'When you steam broccoli, you're literally TORTURING it,' says scientist!

"But the pain is much worse for the plants because their pain continues long into the food preparation process," he said.

"For instance, broccoli feels pain for up to a month after it is picked. When you steam broccoli, you're literally torturing it."

This news is especially disturbing for vegetarians, who often protest against slaughterhouses and chicken farms while unknowingly inflicting great pain on all sorts of plants.

"We've looked at the evidence and it's clear we'll have to rethink our eating habits," said one member of a national animal rights group who asked not to be identified.

"I'm just thankful we have learned this now, so we can now truly end all the suffering."

To measure the plants' pain scientists hooked them up to supersensitive electronic monitors.

"When oranges are hanging in a tree they are calm, relaxed and enjoying life," Dr. Blakely said.

"When one is pulled off the tree it actually screams in pain. And when we pulled the peel off an orange, the needles on our monitors jumped off the chart.

"Just because humans can't detect the pain doesn't mean it's not there. Our monitors prove it exists and is very severe."

But Dr. Blakely said this doesn't mean people should stop eating fruits and vegetables.

"It's a decision people must make for themselves," he said.

"But the fact remains that eating a salad once a week inflicts more pain and suffering than eating a chicken sandwich every day."

Men rest on weekends while women work

. . . says new study!

By JUNE SAWYER
Weekly World News

Husbands have it made on weekends — they have almost 50 percent more leisure time than wives do, a recent study discovered.

In the study, 60 married couples kept diaries describing how they spent typical workdays and typical weekend days, from the time they woke up until they fell asleep at night.

On weekdays men and women had almost the same amount of leisure time — about 6 hours 22 minutes for men and 6 hours 1 minute for women. But weekends were another story.

"I found that men have significantly more leisure time than women — an average of 11.77 hours per day for men, and 8.1 hours per day for women," declared Dr. Susan Shaw, who conducted the study.

"And studies by other researchers have since supported my findings."

All the people in her study were middle-class or working-class couples in Halifax, N.S., Canada.

All the men worked full-time, while some of the women worked and others were full-time housewives.

Why do men enjoy so much more free time than women on weekends?

"Men work a regimented 9 to 5 or 8 to 4 schedule during the week and feel they have earned leisure time when they leave the job," Dr. Shaw explained.

"Women, on the other hand, still have primary responsibility for the household. So even if they have a job, they still have more work to do than men when they come home — caring for the kids, cleaning and shopping.

"Men do not have the same amount of responsibility around the house."

As a result, women still do housework on weekends — while their husbands are fishing, playing golf or watching football on TV.

Dr. Shaw, a sociologist, added:

"I am confident that if the study had been conducted in the U.S., the results would have been the same."

The kind of exercise you like reveals your personality

"The exercise a person prefers says a lot about his personality," new studies reveal.

"Joggers are ambitious and determined, going to great lengths to achieve their goals," says Dr. Robert S. Brown.

"Joggers like to set their own pace and limits in life. They are time-conscious and often loners."

People who like to play tennis are self-reliant, independent and practical, according to Dr. Brown, a professor of psychiatry.

"They are observant and self-controlled, keenly competitive and well disciplined," he added.

Team sports, such as basketball, volleyball and baseball, attract sociable, cooperative people, Dr. Brown continued. "They enjoy parties and conversation. They're excitable.

"Swimmers are loyal and trusting, self-confident and relaxed. You can count on them for just about anything.

"Dancers are sensitive and responsive. They act on intuition. They are dramatic and romantic.

Bicyclists are idealistic & enterprising self-starters!

"And golfers are adaptable, open-minded and easily bored. They aren't afraid of change — they even welcome it. They are also analytical."

People who participate in regular exercise classes are friendly, loyal and understanding. They care deeply for family and are the type that can take advice, Dr. Brown said.

Yoga buffs, he continued, "are thoughtful and introverted. They value peace of mind.

"Walkers are even-tempered intellectuals. They prefer moderation and are comfortable with themselves.

"Hikers are perceptive, individualistic and adventurous. They're rugged and find solace in nature.

"Bicyclists are idealistic and enterprising self-starters.

"They are independent and like to be original.

"And horseback riders are perfectionists, patient and dedicated. They like power and enjoy partying.

"Ski lovers are bold risk-takers and are often gamblers."

And what about people who prefer no exercise?

"They are stubborn nonconformists," said Dr. Brown.

"They don't follow the crowd and can be rebellious."

By MICHAEL FORSYTH / Weekly World News

EUGENE, Fla. — When a protective mom saw a teenager arguing with her son at a gas station, she didn't fool around — cops say the hotheaded woman hosed the boy down with gasoline and then lit him up like a sparkler!

Julie Cook, 35, now faces charges of aggravated assault and attempted murder for allegedly trying to roast victim Donald Chavous alive.

The bizarre incident unfolded on the afternoon of April 9 at the Dixie One Stop gas station, when Donald, 18, became engaged in an angry shouting match and fight with Julie's son Opie, also 18.

"During this time the defendant, Julie Cook, was using a gas pump and gassing her vehicle," according to a police report filed by the Dixie County Sheriff's Department.

Donald Chavous

"Cook then removed the gas nozzle from the vehicle and sprayed gasoline on the victim. She used a lighter in an attempt to ignite this gasoline."

To Julie's annoyance, the lighter didn't work at first. So she tried again, police say — and this time the lighter worked and the horrified high school senior was instantly turned into a human torch.

"After igniting the victim in flames, the defendant fled the scene and was later located at her residence by law enforcement," the police say.

After the flames were extinguished, EMS workers took the torched teen by helicopter to Shands Medical Center in Gainesville.

He survived, but suffered "severe burns to the upper torso and head area," according to cops. Julie has pleaded not-guilty to the senseless crime. But if convicted, she could face decades behind bars.

No matter what, luckless Donald will have a permanent reminder of the incident. His injuries will likely lead to "severe scarring and disfigurement," according to EMS workers.

Police didn't say what fired up the argument in the first place.

Shocking discovery in the rain forests of New Guinea:

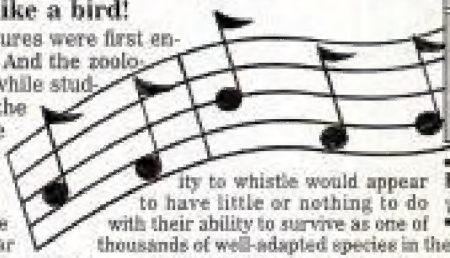
WHISTLING KANGAROOS!

NEW species of kangaroo actually whistles tunes, says the zoologist who discovered the creatures in the rain forests of New Guinea. (See map below left.)

PORT MORESBY, Papua New Guinea — Researchers have discovered an astonishing new species of kangaroo that lives in rain forests, curls its lips and whistles like a bird!

The strange creatures were first encountered in mid-May. And the zoologists who found them while studying rare animals in the rain forests say the kangaroos are "a textbook example of evolution running wild."

"These animals have evolved in a highly peculiar and altogether irrelevant way," Dr. Claude DuLette, the famed French zoologist, told reporters. "The ability to whistle would appear to have little or nothing to do with their ability to survive as one of thousands of well-adapted species in the rain forest.



By MARY O'CONNER
Weekly World News

"A genetic mutation obviously occurred somewhere along the line. Since we've only been able to locate three males and seven females, it's safe to say that the mutation occurred quite recently, probably within the past 10 years.

"The animal whistles more or less at random but strangely, there are sporadic melodic progressions that sound a little like tunes.

"Unlike birds, which whistle to alert other birds to food sources or danger, or simply to mimic sounds they hear, the kangaroos don't seem to communicate with their mouths.

"Like other kangaroos and rabbits, they 'talk' with one another by tapping their hind legs on the ground."

Dr. DuLette and his colleagues discovered the kangaroos on May 17.

The expert said he assumed that the creatures were ordinary kangaroos, which are becoming increasingly common in the rain forest, until he heard them whistle.

"I was absolutely stunned," said Dr. DuLette. "As I watched a particularly large male curl its lips and whistle, I really thought I was hallucinating.

"After my associates confirmed that the animal really was whistling, all I could think to do was get my camera and start taking pictures.

"I knew we were on to something big."

Dr. DuLette and his team spent the next three weeks carefully observing the whistling kangaroos.

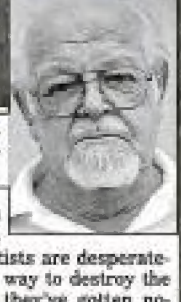
It's deadlier than the flesh-eating virus



FAMED epidemiologist Dr. Dieter Markhold.

MOSCOW, Russia — A deadly plague unleashed from an archaeological dig is sweeping Russia, an expert says — and it could spread to the United States!

The antibiotic-resistant plague, originally found in the tissues of mummies dug up in 1989, is so contagious that it can be spread by a cough or a sneeze. After killing members of the archaeological team, the disease has invaded the general population of Russia and now is snuffing out thousands of lives every day.

"It's deadlier than the flesh-eating virus," says German epidemiologist Dr. Dieter Markhold, an expert in contagious diseases.

"And there's no way to protect people against this plague. If they take the dying to hospitals, the disease just spreads to the doctors and nurses. It wipes out entire families.

"Russian scientists are desperately trying to find a way to destroy the bacilli but so far they've gotten nowhere. It's spreading like wildfire and national borders aren't going to stop it," said Dr. Markhold.

The horrifying plague — a relative of the bubonic plague that wiped out 5,000 people a day in ancient Rome — was first discovered in 1989 by a team of Russian scientists working on a dig outside of Surgut in western Siberia. The three archaeologists, one paleontologist and one microbiologist from the Ukrainian Academy of Sciences had discovered a ruined village dating from the mid-1300s. In the town's ancient cemetery they uncovered a mass grave containing more than 70 bodies, some in a remarkably well-preserved state.

The scientists thought the mummies were so interesting that they took tissue samples and conducted autopsies. But their investigations disturbed the deadly germs that had caused the mummies' deaths — and unleashed the plague once again.

"The scientists must have breathed in the fatal bacilli," said Dr. Markhold. "Within a few days three of them were sick and soon all of the group had died.

"What's more, doctors and nurses who attempted to treat the sick scientists themselves died horribly of the disease. From that time, the plague has spread completely out of control."

Dr. Markhold says there have been secret efforts by the United States and a number of other countries to help the Russians cope with this terrifying medical crisis. But authorities have kept the deadly plague a secret to prevent worldwide panic.

"World leaders are hoping a cure can be found for the plague before much longer," the physician

A Degree could make a giant difference in your lifetime earnings, compared to the average earnings of a high school graduate. Just compare your present salary with the money you could be making with your Business or Technology Degree. And it's not only the money, but the respect and prestige you get from others when they realize you've earned your Degree!

GET YOUR SPECIALIZED ASSOCIATE DEGREE IN BUSINESS OR TECHNOLOGY IN YOUR SPARE TIME WITHOUT ATTENDING CLASSES
An ASB or AST Degree can be yours and you never have to attend college classes. You learn at home during the hours you choose without interrupting job or social life. You study the same subjects taught in major colleges and universities. If you have completed college classes, we may be able to start you with advanced standing toward your Degree. Many ICS graduates have gone on to outstanding careers... as presidents of companies, industry leaders, famous scientists, etc. Yet every one of them started by doing what you can do right now... SENDING FOR INFORMATION!

Here's why an ICS Degree or Career Diploma represents such an impressive accomplishment to so many Americans...
Our programs contain the most up-to-date lessons and materials, and if you have questions about your school program you can call our special DIAL-A-QUESTION® 800# for 24-hour educational assistance... however, most students find our step-by-step "Quick-Learn" system so effective that they do just fine on their own! At ICS we believe in giving you all the facts to make your decision on career training the right one.

- ☐ Our tuition is affordable and there are no finance charges on our easy, flexible payment plans.
- ☐ ICS is there for you, even after you graduate — we're the oldest and largest distance-learning institution in the world. We were founded over 100 years ago in 1890, and we support you even after you graduate. ICS will even write a letter of recommendation for you and send it to your employer — think what a competitive edge that can give you when applying for a new job or promotion! Don't wait another minute to get all the facts on ICS career training and what it can do for you.

Get the ICS advantage and see what an ICS Degree or Diploma can do for you...

- ✔ Over 10 million Americans have chosen ICS over all other forms of training.
- ✔ Nearly 2,000 American corporations choose the ICS "Quick-Learn" training method for their employees.
- ✔ All ICS Degree and Career Diploma Programs are NATIONALLY ACCREDITED.
- ✔ ICS programs include brand-name equipment and supplies like Sears Craftsman®, Pentax®, and Microsoft® software, at no extra cost.

ICS graduates are realizing the American dream*...

- ✔ 30% earn over $30,000 per year and an amazing 7% earn over $50,000.
- ✔ Over 50% are currently working in professional/technical fields — are managers or supervisors or in sales!

A NEW WORLD RECORD

Housewife shatters the age barrier!

Woman, 82, gives birth to twins!

Proud mom at 82, Annamarie Corbanar shows off her twin boys.

HARTFORD, Conn. — A housewife gave birth to healthy twins two weeks ago — becoming a proud new mother at the ripe old age of 82!

Miracle mom Annamarie Corbanar is now the oldest mother of twins on record, exceeding by an incredible 23 years the previous record held by an unidentified 59-year-old British woman.

Mrs. Corbanar's spectacular delivery follows that of Anna Lucci, 70, of Los Angeles who several years ago gave birth to quintuplets.

The history-making birth was engineered by Argentinian fertility expert Dr. Raul Madera, who stunned the medical world when he described how he helped his post-menopausal patient conceive and deliver her healthy babies — two 5-pound, 9-ounce boys named Hector and Andre. The unprecedented birth has created a shock wave of controversy worldwide, but Dr. Madera says he was prepared for the hue and cry.

"There are many people who say elderly women shouldn't be allowed to have babies," says the obstetrician, who published a paper describing his methods. "But I'm dedicated to my patients to do whatever is possible to make them happy.

"Mrs. Corbanar wanted to have children — now she's a mother. She is in excellent condition and so are her babies. I feel I have played my role perfectly."

New mom is delighted by her two healthy 5½-pound boys

Dr. Madera says he was first contacted by his aged patient in February of 1998, after she had been married for the second time — was already the mother of a middle-age son and daughter. But she wanted to give her new husband a child since he had never had one of his own.

She finally gave up on American doctors and turned to doctors in Argentina, the land of her birth. Dr. Madera agreed to help her, and she and her 86-year-old husband Manuel flew to Buenos Aires to begin the first phase of the treatment.

"This was a very elderly patient, but a woman in good physical shape for her age," said Dr. Madera. "She was highly motivated. She was an excellent candidate for test-tube fertilization. She was well-off and living in the United States where medical care during the pregnancy would be available. I saw no reason to deny her the baby she desired.

Q I was horrified to hear that some creep posted phony nude pictures of Sandra Bullock on the Internet. She seems like a real wholesome girl-next-door type. Was she traumatized to find out about the pictures?

— Arlene, K., Ellsworth, Kans.

A Down-to-earth Sandra wasn't too rattled by the naughty pictures — in fact she was delighted to see that the sneaky computer nerds put her head on a much more bodacious woman's body. "The boobs were bigger — a nice rack," the Forces of Nature star observed.

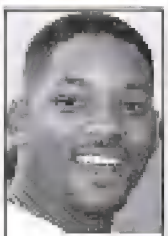
Q A lot of these guys who are running for President are clowns. So I was delighted to hear something about Wild, Wild West star Will Smith throwing his hat in the ring.

With his street-smarts and charisma, he'd be an appealing candidate. Or was he just joking?

— Tim V., Fredonia, Ala.

A It's no joke. Although the Fresh Prince doesn't plan to run for the White House has go around, he is considering politics as a post-showbiz career—and has his eye on the Oval Office. "I'm really serious. I feel like I could be the President of the United States," says the rap star and matinee idol. "I believe if I set my mind to it, within the next 15 years I would be President."



THE FRESH PRINCE OF WASHINGTON, D.C.? Will Smith.

Q Lisa Kudrow is my favorite actress on TV's Friends and I'd like to find out more about her—particularly anything juicy. She's very sensuous looking, but in the tabloids you never read about any naughty behavior on her part. How can I find out more about Lisa's sex-ploits?

— Jim E., Houston, Texas

A It'll be tough — because lovely Lisa's life has been without blemish. In fact, the drop-dead-gorgeous blonde stayed a virgin until she married at age 31, she has revealed. The decision to pass on premarital sex wasn't part of the new chastity craze, just a personal choice, says Lisa, who is now happily married to husband Michel Stern and has a small son.

NO NAUGHTY SEX BEFORE MARRIAGE. Lisa Kudrow.

Q I love Elizabeth Taylor and so you can imagine how ecstatic I was when someone told me she'd be starring in an update of the classic film, The Wizard of Oz. Will she be playing the Wicked Witch of the West?

— Kim R., Decatur, Ga.

A No, if the project gets off the ground, 67-year-old Liz will play pigtailed Kansas gal Dorothy! The actress has been talking about collaborating on the sequel with veteran actor Rod Steiger, who also hopes to direct. "It's about how Dorothy, who's 60-plus, goes back to Oz after her husband dies." Steiger explained in an interview. "I'll play the Cowardly Lion, who is now so tough he has become a gangster."

Q Robin Wright Penn, who stars opposite Kevin Costner in Message in a Bottle, is one of the most gorgeous women in Hollywood. But someone told me she has a real hangup about the way she looks. I can't imagine why. What doesn't she like about herself?

— Shawn R., Pasadena, Md.

A Beautiful blonde Robin, the wife of bad boy actor Sean Penn, finds no fault with her breathtaking looks. But the actress, who also starred in Forrest Gump and The Princess Bride, is convinced her voice is too deep and macho.

"I hate my voice," she revealed in a recent interview. "I sound like a guy!"

I SOUND LIKE A GUY. Robin Wright Penn.

Q I'm a big fan of Debra Messing, who stars as Grace on the TV sitcom Will & Grace. I also enjoyed her performance in the latest Woody Allen film Celebrity.

Was it a big thrill for her getting to work with the famous director?

— Toni B., Bronx, N.Y.

A Debra was excited to work with Woody, but also somewhat jittery — and when she filmed her first scene, the butterflies in her stomach almost caused her to make a mess of her co-star Judy Davis.

"I nearly vomited all over her. I was so nerv-

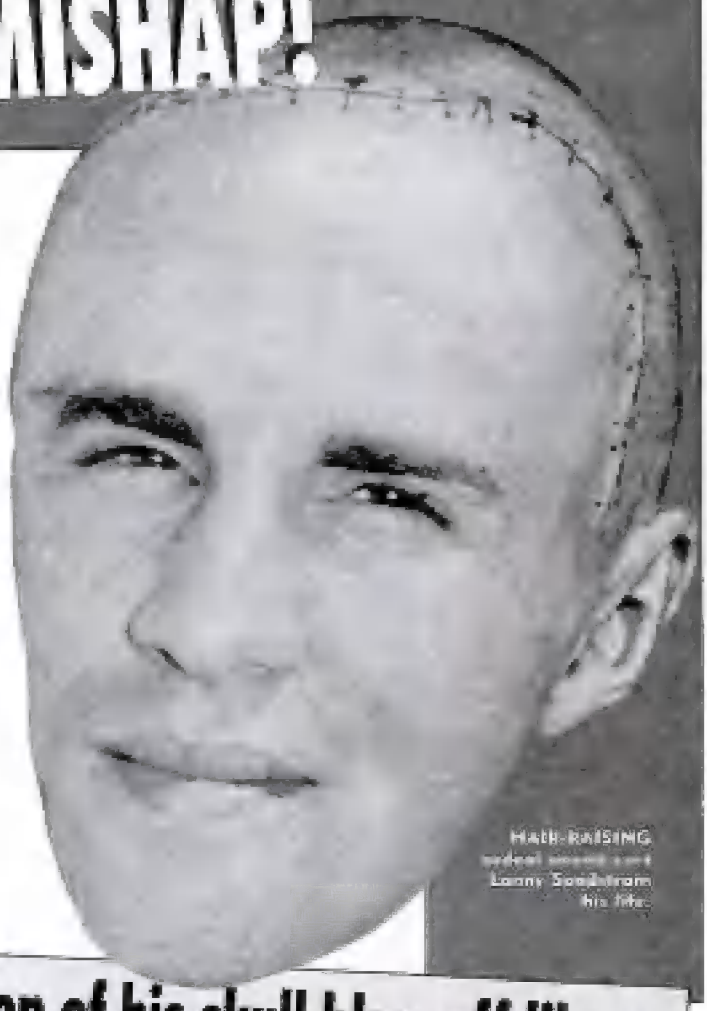
MIND-BLOWING MISHAP!

Meet the man who REALLY laughed his head off!



HAIR-RAISING ordeal scared Lanny Sondstrom into bed.

Top of his skull blew off like a champagne cork, say witnesses!

By JOE BERGER/Weekly World News

CHICAGO — Happy-go-lucky Lanny Sondstrom was swapping jokes with co-workers at his local watering hole when he let out a giant guffaw — and literally laughed his head off!

Fun-loving Lanny, 28, got so tickled he tore open an old fracture and blew the top of his skull right up through his scalp.

His panic-stricken pals rushed him to a hospital, where surgeons stuck his skull back together with a special, space-age glue and stitched him up.

"Everybody talks about how they laughed their head off, but I'm one of a kind — because I actually did it," the dazed laborer said from his hospital bed.

"But believe me, there's got to be an easier way to make your mark in the world. The doctors said I nearly died laughing."

Shocked docs said Lanny had apparently been left with a narrow fissure in his skull when he banged his head in a boating accident as a boy.

"They figure I had a weakness in my skull for years but I never even knew it," said the befuddled bachelor.

"They said something like this is a one-in-a-million deal, maybe one in a billion."

The mind-blowing mishap occurred as laid-back Lanny whooped it up with three buddies at a bar one night after work.

"We weren't drunk, we were just sitting around a table, having a couple of beers and cracking jokes," he recalled.

"All of a sudden this guy Bryan said something funny and I let out a howl and got the most godawful headache I'd ever had in my life. I felt the blood oozing from the top of my head and the guys were all staring at me with eyes as big as silver dollars and I knew something was terribly wrong.

"I felt the top of my head and I could feel my skull coming right up through my scalp, and I said, 'Man, somebody get me to a doctor quick — my head's coming apart!' I really thought I was going to die."

But lucky Lanny survived the hair-raising ordeal, and doctors say he should be back at work within weeks.

"I can't wait to have a little fun

There's a best time of day to do everything, say new studies

There's a best time of day for just about everything, research shows. Here are some fascinating questions about time and the answers science has found.

● What's the best time to get up in the morning?

Immediately upon awakening. If you linger in bed you'll start thinking of all the things you have to do that day, and this can tire you out.

● What's the best time of day to make an important decision?

Midday, according to psychological tests conducted on men and women students at Florida State University.

At midday, students were most capable of reviewing past events accurately and making sound decisions.

The poorest decision-making occurred before 9 a.m. and late in the afternoon.

● What time of day does pain hurt the most?

Again, just before meals or when you're hungry. You tend to be most tense at those times. And it has been established that tension greatly increases sensitivity to pain.

The more relaxed you are, the less any given pain will hurt.

● What's the best time of day to learn something new?

Tests show it's in the evening before going to bed. The shorter the delay between study and bedtime, the more likely you are to retain new knowledge.

● What's the best time of day to persuade someone?

Mealtime. Yale University studies show that we are much more susceptible to persuasion when we're eating something we enjoy.

● What time of day are the blues likely to strike hardest?

If you have the blues, you'll feel your worst shortly after awakening. But unless it's a severe case, your depression will lift as the day unfolds.

● At what time of day do you get the most pleasure out of eating?

Studies at Cambridge University show that our ability to taste and savor what we eat peaks near midday and bottoms in the late afternoon.

Mississippi woman's vow: I'm not going to talk until The King returns

ELVIS FAN HASN'T SPOKEN SINCE 1977!

IT'S been 22 years since Alice Crader has uttered a word. In background, the walls of her home are covered with photos of Elvis.

JACKSON, Miss. — Alice Crader is Elvis Presley's biggest fan and to prove it she hasn't spoken a single word since he died — or disappeared — 22 long years ago on August 16, 1977!

And the 53-year-old divorcee vows to remain silent until she sees concrete proof that The King didn't fake his death and really is buried under the marker that bears his name at his famed Graceland mansion in Memphis.

"I know it sounds crazy but Alice hasn't said a word since Elvis vanished all those years ago," said her sister Freda Mariott.

By APRIL CONLON
Weekly World News

"What's even crazier is she definitely believes he's still alive. When she heard Elvis died, she wrote me a note that said she didn't believe he was dead and that she wasn't going to utter a single syllable until he came back."

So far Elvis' No. 1 fan has stuck to her promise. She's been as silent as a mute for 22 years now.

Freda, who lives next door to her sister, said that when Alice needs something or wants to ask a question she writes it down on paper.

"IT'S HER LIFE," says Alice's sister, Freda Mariott.

Alice is so obsessed with The King that she's filled her small house from top to bottom with a mind-boggling accumulation of Elvis memorabilia.

She's not only collected every record Elvis ever made, but she's got Elvis movies, autographed pictures of Elvis, Elvis statues, Elvis jewelry and a guitar he strummed at a benefit in 1956.

She's even got a portrait painted on black velvet of Elvis in his signature jumpsuit.

"No matter where you look all you see is Elvis' face staring back at you," said Freda. "Alice's collection takes up so much room that five years ago her husband got fed up and divorced her.

"Between the Elvis junk and Alice refusing to speak, he couldn't take it anymore.

"He packed his bags and said he was moving to Florida.

"We haven't heard from him since."

One reason Alice has been able to stay mum for so long is she doesn't have to work to support herself. The devoted fan receives a monthly check from her late father's estate.

"Alice rarely leaves the house except for an occasional trip to the store and her annual trip to The King's mansion in Memphis," said Freda.

"Other than that, all she does is listen to Elvis records or watch his old movies. I know it's strange, but she's not hurting anyone, so if she wants to wait for Elvis to come back, what's the harm? It's her life."

STEP INTO COMFORT & KISS YOUR ACHING FEET GOODBYE

Revolutionary insoles will make you think you're walking on air

"Ahhhhhhh!"

That's the heavenly sound of comfort you'll make when you get in step with Foot Shox™ insoles — amazing shoe inserts that soothe aching feet like never before.

Just ask nurse Debra Ware who puts in 12-hour shifts at a nursing home and found Foot Shox™ a Godsend.

"When I got home, my feet were burning, my legs hurt and my back was even hurting me," said the Knoxville, Tenn., health care worker. "Since I've been wearing Foot Shox™ . . . the pain is gone."

The incredible foot comfort cushions were developed by the pain-relieving pros at Orthopedic Research Labs in Clearwater, Fla. And the lab experts really put their heart and insole into their work.

Foot Shox™ insoles are giant steps ahead of other brands because they're the ONLY insoles made entirely from the labs' custom formulations of the miracle urethane, Poron®. The super shock-absorbing material — awarded the American Podiatric Medical Association's Seal of Acceptance — has been rated far superior to insole materials such as latex foam or sponge rubber.

"When you put Poron® insoles inside your shoes, you've got a great increase in comfort," said Dr. William Ross, a renowned podiatrist and author of six books on foot health and footwear.

"It's the difference between stepping on hard pavement and stepping on a pillow."

Poron® is the only insole material that won't flatten out or wear out. In fact, a test showed that even a steamroller couldn't flatten out made-from-Poron® Foot Shox™ insoles.

But there are a lot more foot-soothing benefits with Foot Shox™.

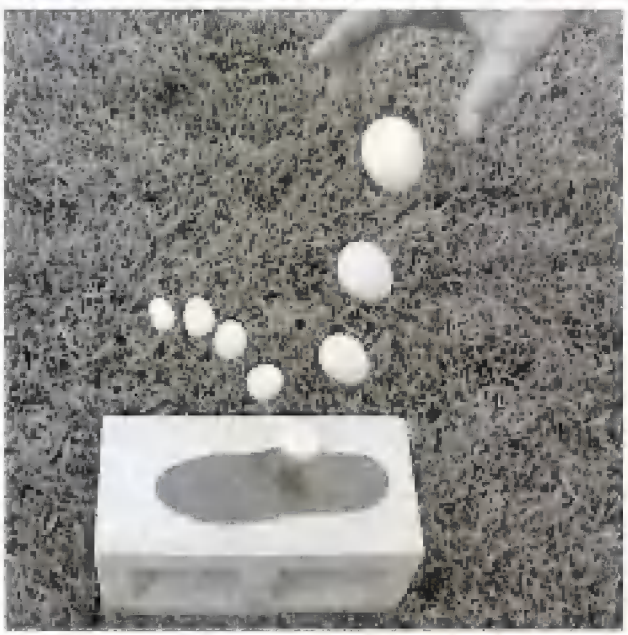
Other insoles are stiff and heavy, forcing your feet to fit the shape of the inserts and causing discomfort. Foot Shox™ insoles are ultra-light and flexible so they conform to your foot's shape. And they are so wonderfully thin and baby-skin soft, you won't have to remove existing shoe insoles to get them to fit. Other brands can't make that claim.

What's more, Foot Shox™ contain the odor-fighting additive Parmafresh® to keep your tootsies fresh.

If all that's not enough, the Foot Shox™ people give you more foot comfort for your money.

Each package contains two pairs of insoles. The women's package — available in sizes 5-7, 7½-9, and 9½-11 — has a special set of insoles for high heels, pumps and flats and another for athletic, walking and roomy work shoes.

The men's package — available in sizes 7-9, 9½-11 and 11½-13 — includes a pair of full-length insoles for work, athletic and casual shoes and a pair of ¾-length insoles for shoes with limited toe room.



On national TV, we dropped a raw egg on a Foot Shox™ insole. The Egg bounced off! It didn't break!

We ran over Foot Shox™ insoles with a 14,000 lb. Steam Roller. The Foot Shox survived the crush! Our insoles did not flatten out!

everyone's feet start to hurt, whether it's from the aging process, an injury or a medical condition such as arthritis.

Consider this: Each step you take generates a force 50 percent greater than your body weight. Known as step shock, this force weakens the foot's natural shock absorbers. Foot Shox™ insoles — which come with a money-back guarantee — replace those shock absorbers and put the skids to step shock.

In two separate tests in Clearwater, Fla., workers at both a nationally known home supply store and an arthritis research center found they were walking on cloud nine with the extraordinary insoles.

At the home supply store — where workers toil away on a cement floor — 95 percent of the 25 employees tested found relief from their foot pain, 93 percent got relief from knee pain and 81 percent saw their back pain ease.

At the arthritis institute, 19 of the 20 patients tested said their foot and joint pain was eliminated or reduced; 17 said they were less fatigued and 16 reported they had more mobility with Foot Shox™.

"I've had osteoarthritis in my knees, hips and spine for 17 years. My doctor advised me to walk for exercise but I experienced a lot of pain in my knees and hips," said retiree Renee Nelis of Inverness, Fla.

"I started wearing Foot Shox™ and I could walk long distances without any pain. It truly has been a breakthrough."

And Tony Huszai, installation manager at the home supply store, found welcome relief from foot, leg and back pain when he wore Foot Shox™ insoles.

"It's amazing," said Huszai.

You'll be amazed too.

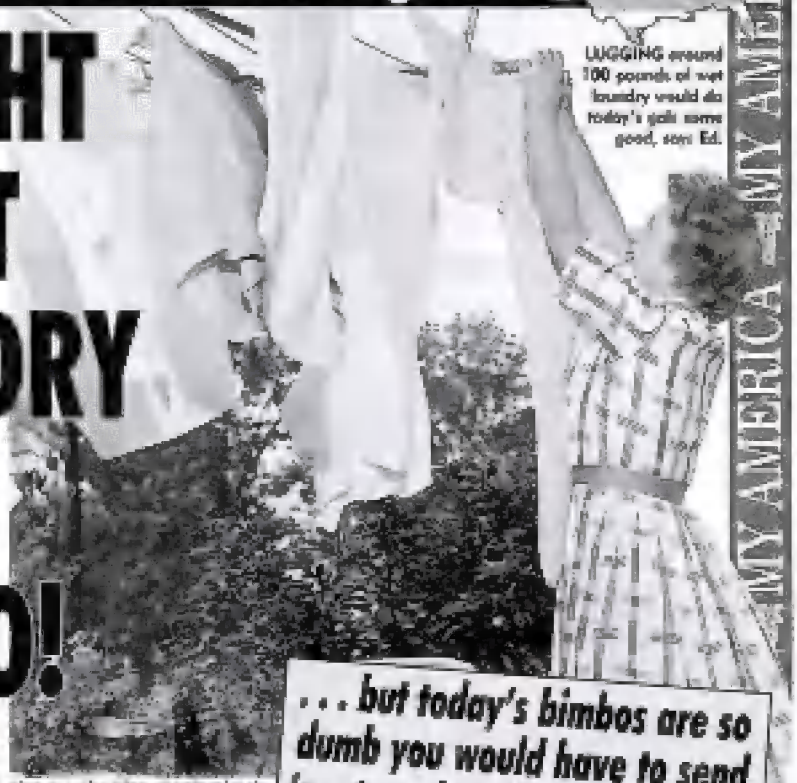
MY AMERICA By ED ANGER

Clothes dryers have spoiled the hell out of gals

WOMEN OUGHT TO HANG OUT CLOTHES TO DRY — JUST LIKE THEY USED TO!



LUGGING around 100 pounds of wet laundry would do today's gals some good, says Ed.

I'm madder than my bullterrier with a flea on his butt that women don't use those great old-fashioned clotheslines to dry laundry anymore.

There's nothing like God's air to make clothes smell fresh and clean — not to mention how much exercise today's spoiled-brat gals would get hanging 'em up.

Problem is, the airhead females of the 1990s would have to go to school to learn how to use those old wooden clothespins, for crying out loud.

I remember my dear Mother, bless her soul, hauling out our wet laundry in a big wicker basket and pinning it up on a clothesline about as long as a football field. None of these newfangled electric clothes dryers for her, by jiminey.

Let's face it. Clothes that come out of spin dryers smell like they've been scorched in a toaster oven for two days.

And hey: there were a lot of side benefits to getting a good look at your neighbors' laundry flapping in the breeze. You could tell how much money they really had just by checking out their undies and stuff.

Heck, I first learned about sex by sneaking a peek at bras and panties dangling in the breeze.

Of course, you could have used some of those panties as pup tents, as big as they were — if you get my drift. In other words, it was easy to tell if lard-butt Mrs. So-and-So was back into the butter-fried biscuits and pork chops again.

But what makes me so pig-biting mad is that when I brought up the idea of going back to clotheslines to my wife Thelma Jean, she about had a fit.

Seems her bub-blebrain women's lib friends thought it was insulting to put gals back out where they belong — in the backyard hanging up the laundry.

What the hell else do they have to do, for Pete's sake? They've got so many labor-saving house-cleaning devices these days, it seems like women would be begging for something to fill up their time.

And carrying out about a hundred pounds of wet laundry every two days might teach 'em a lesson about what us men have to do to bring home the bacon.

So I say it's time to put up a line in every American backyard — just like it was in the good old days. Because if we don't draw the line somewhere, next thing you know us men will be washing dishes and vacuuming the house.

And America will be that much closer in going to Hell in a handbasket.

Ed Anger

. . . but today's bimbos are so dumb you would have to send 'em to a class just to teach 'em how to use a clothespin!

ED first learned about sex by sneaking a peek at bras and panties dangling in the breeze.

ED ANGER'S CLOTHESLINE POLL

☐ YES: I agree with Ed Anger that women should go back to hanging laundry on the line instead of using electric dryers. It would give them some much-needed exercise and take up all that spare time they have to eat bonbons.

☐ NO: Ed Anger is an anti-female pig. Who in the hell does he think does all the housework now — even after working their butts off all day. Women, that's who.

Man with golden touch lived 1,200 years ago!

PRINT made from a gold engraving unearthed at the site depicts King Midas turning objects into gold, according to a famous archaeologist.

KING MIDAS' BODY FOUND

...in a solid gold coffin!

By ANWAR BAŞARAH/Weekly World News

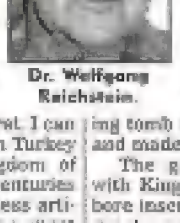
ANKARA, Turkey — A spectacular new archaeological find has proven the King Midas "myth" is true: Experts have uncovered the dead monarch's body — and found out he still has the golden touch!

The corpse of Midas was found buried inside a 24-karat-gold tomb in central Turkey. Incredibly, when an unfortunate workman tried to remove the body from its coffin he was instantly transformed to solid gold!

"We knew there was an actual King Midas in the 8th century B.C., but we thought the story that everything he touched turned to gold was a fairy tale," said Dr. Wolfgang Reichstein, an Austrian expert in ancient civilizations. "Now we know the age-old legend is true.



Dr. Wolfgang Reichstein.

"Because of the quantity of pure gold at the tomb, we have had to keep the location of the site absolutely secret. I can say, however, that the dig is in Turkey in what was once the kingdom of Phrygia which Midas ruled centuries ago. The tomb is full of priceless artifacts. This find is the most important archaeological discovery of the century."

Reichstein said the Midas find came about quite by accident when one of his assistants followed up rumors of an ancient burial site in an isolated mountainous region.

After digging for two weeks in the area, the assistant uncovered a gleaming tomb measuring 32 feet by 14 feet and made of solid gold blocks.

The gold blocks were inscribed with King Midas' special symbol and bore inscriptions with the story of the man's life.

Inside the tomb, which was filled with priceless ornaments in the form of animals and human figures, were the remains of the king himself.

In the center of the room stood a giant gold sarcophagus with a gold coffin inside. A number of solid gold slaves surrounded it.

"Of course, we assumed these articles were just creations designed and manufactured by goldsmiths," Dr. Reichstein told an international conference of archaeologists in Istanbul. "But when we finally went into the sarcophagus, opened the coffin and tried to remove the mummified corpse, we discovered what we were dealing with.

"A workman who reached inside the coffin to touch the corpse was instantly transformed into solid gold. Since then, we have warned everyone to stay away from the mummy and we have been careful to touch the corpse only with rupus, wooden poles or other devices. They turned to gold, of course, but the people holding them did not."

INDIA LEGALIZES TOE SUCKING!

JAIPUR, India — Toe-sucking parlors are springing up all around this heavily-populated city, since officials passed a law making the popular fetish legal.

People who prefer to do it anywhere, said City Councilman Mahesh Gupta, can still be arrested.

HEAD-HUNTING

It still exists — and the grisly trophies sell for up to $5,000 each!

By REGGIE STARR / Weekly World News

UMTATA, South Africa — We've all seen old horror movies about these vicious jungle savages, who chop off and sell human heads.

But head-hunting still exists today! It is a grim reality — a cold-blooded business that ends the lives of scores of innocent victims, whose severed heads are sold to collectors for as much as $5,000 each.

In the dense bush of Transkei, South Africa, headhunters still ply their grisly trade.

Although a web of silence normally surrounds the terrible transactions, one rare eye-witness account has been obtained. Tobile Mtyawazo was 15 when he wandered into the woods in September 1997, and became lost along the twisted paths of the bush.

Suddenly, as he struggled through the dense vegetation, he heard voices ahead. He crept forward and saw about 30 men in a clearing.

"I knew immediately I had stumbled upon bad people," he said. Some of them were dressed as witch doctors, in animal skins with red mud on their hair, while others wore ordinary clothes.

Then more men appeared, carrying a heavy load in a blanket. "They dropped the blanket in the center of the clearing and unwrapped it," Tobile said.

"There must have been 20 heads in that blanket ... all heads of young women.

"Sheer panic swept through me and I could feel my eyes bulging out of my head. I knew if the men discovered me they would kill me."

While Tobile watched in terror, a buyer arrived and began inspecting the heads, one by one, without a sign of emotion.

Mtyawazo

"It was like a man selecting choice apples from a roadside stand," Tobile recalled with disgust.

"And whenever he chose one the seller would dance for joy. One happy headhunter picked up a head he had sold and danced quite close to me.

"I could see the head was of a young woman, and that her blonde hair was fashionably braided.

"Each seller was paid $5,000 for each head he sold. And once a man was paid, a great hubbub broke out as other men demanded their share of the money."

Tobile, sick to his stomach, fled the bloody scene. He told his story to police, who later arrested one headhunter and charged him with murder.

However, head-hunting continues because it is so lucrative. "We know this sort of thing goes on, and we have absolutely no reason to doubt Tobile's ac-

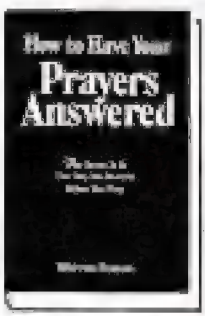
Learn to pray correctly.

The secret is in the way you breathe before you pray.



THE INCREASE IN THE FREQUENCY of natural disasters is a sign that the earth is moving toward a great change that will soon bring a world-wide cleansing. Chapter 4 of this remarkable book explains how global cleansings come in cycles, and are meant to cleanse the earth of the bad so that the good may survive. It's been that way throughout human history. There's a way to increase yours and your loved one's chances of survival—have your prayers answered by learning how to pray correctly.

Based on Ancient, Universal, Biblical Principles, Not Modern Religion

This book was written for those who seek confidence that their prayers are heard. It teaches the kind of prayer that Jesus taught when he said, "Ask and it shall be given you." If you learn to pray correctly, that is, if you learn how to actually speak a correct prayer, as described in chapter 10, you and your loved ones will be given the wisdom to prepare for and survive the coming earth changes.

Most people who pray are sincere, but praying incorrectly is like the amateur at bat who strikes out again and again until eventually gets a hit. The correct way is like the amateur who gets a hit on the first swing. But the secret of praying correctly has to do with understanding the reciprocal nature of life on earth: In nature something is always sacrificed in return for something else. (Example: A flower gets up its nectar to the bee in return for the bee's pollen.) The same principle applies to a correctly-made prayer. It's not natural to wish to get something for nothing. But all you need to sacrifice is a little of your life-force by way of your "breath-of-life." This symbolic gesture sets you in a reciprocal state of mind ready to receive answers to your prayers. The technique on how to do this is demonstrated in a simple 2-minute, relaxing exercise, which includes the correct number of breaths to sacrifice.

String of Beads Included

A simple string of beads comes with the book to help you keep track of the number of breaths during the exercise. Also included is a special bonus section on how to pray for your pets.

Some of the topics covered in the book:

- The first thing to pray for.
- Why you are not a bad person just because you think bad thoughts.
- How addictions happen.
- The main cause of illnesses.
- True and false love, and how to tell the difference.
- God's original plan for human procreation, and why sex is not natural for humans.
- Why we fear death.
- The only sin that God cannot forgive even if He wanted to.
- How children become infected with this sin.
- How to become perfect.
- How ancient politicians tampered with the bible.
- Why Jesus' message was meant to be spread to the world in English.
- How the spirit of Death fills the quota of lives it takes.
- How to make a correct prayer.

Many more topics pertaining to praying correctly.

MOM GIVES HERSELF CESAREAN SURGERY!

. . . and delivers healthy baby boy with a kitchen knife!

TACOMA, Wash. — Courageous Dana McPaul was all alone in a remote mountain cabin when she suddenly went into labor. But the shaken lady knew natural childbirth was impossible, so she grabbed a knife — and performed cesarean surgery on herself!

Desperate Dana, 25, sliced into her womb with a 10-inch kitchen knife and successfully delivered her blue-eyed baby Jamie before lapsing into shock.

"It hurt like hell and I almost bled to death before my husband got me to a hospital, but I saved our little boy's life and that's all that matters," the adoring mom told reporters. "Fortunately, my doctor had told me all about how a cesarean works because he knew I'd have to have one, so I knew pretty much what to do.

By JOE BERGER
Weekly World News

"I never would have thought I'd ever have the guts to cut myself open with a knife, but this was our baby, our first baby. And when you have to do something to save someone you love, you don't think about it — you just do it."

Brave Dana's ordeal unfolded while she and husband Harve vacationed at their cabin in the Cascade Mountains, 70 miles southeast of their Tacoma home.

"Harve was scared to death to take me up to the cabin in the first place, he was so sure something would go wrong," the excited secretary recalled. "But it was a good month before the baby was due, and I was so tired of sitting around that I really felt like I needed a change of scenery.

"So I insisted we go — and I assured Harve that me and the baby would be perfectly fine."

But her first afternoon at the cabin, while her unsuspecting hubby was out fishing, Dana went into labor — and like shell-shocked mom-to-be knew she had to do something fast.

"The doctor had warned me that because my pelvic bone is deformed, there was no way I could give birth the natural way," she said. "But here I was, out in the middle of the wilderness with no phone and nobody around, and that kid wanted out bad. So I just did what I had to do.

"I sterilized the sharpest knife I could find, rubbed ice on my belly hoping it would ease the pain, then lay down on the bed, cut myself open and took my baby out.

"After that I put towels over the incision to stem the bleeding and waited for my husband to come home and help me."

Half an hour later, horrified Harve, 28, found his wife bleeding and barely conscious on the bed — cuddling their newborn baby in her arms. The stunned hubby rushed mother and son 35 miles to a hospital, where they were kept for five days before being released.

"It was the scariest time of my life, driving them to that hospital," the proud pop recalled. "And when I got there and told the doctors what Dana had done, nobody could believe it. They said it takes somebody special to perform their own cesarean, but I didn't need them to tell me that.

"I married one hell of a woman, that's for sure."

"I MARRIED one hell of a woman," said Harve McPaul after his wife Dana cut open her womb with a 10-inch kitchen knife to deliver their baby.

MAJOR RELIGIONS AGREE THAT THE END OF THE WORLD IS NEAR!

Virtually every major religion agrees on a basic principle: The world will undergo total destruction. And they also agree on the main warning sign that universal destruction is imminent — a period of decaying moral values, just like the one we're going through right now!

In the Judeo-Christian tradition, the final days are known as the Apocalypse or the End Times. Christians believe that after a period of chaos and worldwide cataclysm, Jesus Christ will return to Earth to judge mankind.

But belief in such a chain of events, outlined in the Bible's Book of Revelation, is actually far more ancient than the New Testament.

Zoroastrianism, founded by the Iranian prophet Zarathustra in the 6th century B.C., teaches that the world will end with the coming of a savior and that the planet will then be cleansed of wickedness.

Although Islam regards Jesus as a prophet, not the son of God, this religion nevertheless agrees that He will come back to Earth — and links that momentous event with the end of the world.

"The Trumpet shall be blown and the eyes of sinners will turn blue with terror," the Koran states.

Muslims also agree that as history winds down, there will be a period of moral decay and that the demons Gog and Magog — also mentioned in the Bible — will break through the barrier protecting our world and wreak terrible havoc on Earth.

An evil figure known as Dajjal, eerily similar to the Anti-Christ, will bring chaos and destruction but will be defeated and slain by Jesus, the Muslims believe. God will then reward good people with Paradise and condemn the wicked to Hell.

Even Hinduism makes it clear that worldwide destruction is inevitable.

In Hinduism, history takes place in cycles lasting hundreds of thousands of years. Whenever man reaches a certain level of depravity and moral decay, the world is destroyed by fire and flood.

The agent of destruction is the god Kalki, who carries a sword and rides a white horse — just like one of the four horsemen of the Apocalypse described in the Bible.

Sneaky parents flushed all my dope down the toilet!

BRAD in California.

Dear Dotti: My parents are the sneakiest people in the world. I'm 14. And as soon as I leave the house to mess around with my friends, they sneak in my room and turn it upside down. They're just looking for anything they can find to get me in trouble. Just yesterday they found a couple of bags of marijuana and flushed them down the toilet! That dope cost a lot of money, and one of the bags wasn't even mine. When I yelled at them about it they got all upset, my mother even started crying. I don't think my room is any of their business, and I think they were wrong to mess with my drugs. They read your column. Will you tell them to get off my case for good? — Brad in California

Dear Brad: I agree with you 110 percent. Your parents were idiots to flush your marijuana down the toilet — they should have called the cops instead!

Should I sleep with my teacher to pass class?

Dear Dotti: I didn't graduate from high school this spring because I flunked math. I'm taking classes in summer school, but, unfortunately, I'm not doing any better than I did during the regular school year. I'm an 18-year-old woman and I'm beginning to think that I should try using my feminine charms to get a good grade. My teacher is only 24 and he's single. Do you think I ought to seduce him in exchange for a passing grade? — Brenda in Connecticut

BRENDA in Connecticut.

Dear Brenda: If the picture you sent is any indication of what you REALLY look like, you better get a friend to seduce him for you!

Can you get Serena to give me lucky numbers?

Dear Dotti: I love your column Good Lord shorted all us other gals to give an extra helping of EVERYTHING to you. By the way, do you know the Weekly World News psychic, Serena Sabak? If you do, I'd appreciate it if you would ask her to send me some lucky numbers. I need a lottery jackpot bad! — Sally in North Carolina

Dear Sally: Who the hell do you think I am — America's Most Outspoken Messenger Girl? Get with the program, frog face. If you want lucky numbers from that twerp Serena, ask her yourself!

CONFIDENTIALS

Dear Hideously Ugly in Minnesota: I wish I could say I know how you feel, but I'm gorgeous — and I don't!

Dear Roughed Up in Kansas: The next time you lure an ex-con into your bedroom, moron, leave those handcuffs in the dresser!

Dear Stacked in South Carolina: Yeah — but don't you get suicidal knowing that, unlike mine, yours came off the assembly line in a silicone factory?

Dear Confused in Hawaii: Since the last 26 letters you've sent me were postmarked Ewa Beach, Hawaii, it's probably safe to assume that you live there!

Dear Frustrated Teen in Missouri: If you really "love" the girl that much, onion breath, introduce yourself!

Dear Bad Parent in Arizona: Hitting a child with a tire iron is abuse — swatting him on the rump with a fly swatter isn't!

Dear Scared of Dying in Florida: I seriously doubt that you're going to see your husband when you get to Heaven — but at least YOU'LL be happy!

Banana cream pies are MUCH better than sex!

Dear Dotti: I've got a tip for all those single women out there who have sexual needs and desires but don't have a man around the house. I'm a 48-year-old divorcee, and when I feel a need for sex, I sprint down to the kitchen and make myself a banana cream pie. I mash bananas lovingly. Then I whip up a dough for the crust, form it into a thick, long rope and flatten it out with a rolling pin. But my favorite part is preparing a batch of thick, warm, scrumptious vanilla pudding to fill up the crust. I pour the whole mixture into an icing extruder — then I squirt it in. To finish things up, I slather whipped cream all over the top. Finally, I make intricate little cuticues and designs in the topping with my lips and tongue. When I finish, I'm exhausted. All I can do is crawl into bed and sleep peacefully all night! — Mary in Oregon

Dear Mary: I could prattle on about how pathetic your situation is, but I'll keep it short and sweet. If there's any woman on Earth who needs a man, you do — FAST!

I put toilet paper in the boss's egg drop soup!

Dear Dotti: My boss has been giving me hell at work lately and I finally got some Chinese takeout for lunch. He ordered egg drop soup, and you know how the strips of egg white in that stuff looks like toilet paper? Well, I got some toilet paper, tore it into long strips, and loaded his soup up with it. He ate it all and I loved every glorious minute of it. Unfortunately, he got some of the paper stuck in his throat and just about choked to death. He figured out that somebody put paper in it but he's blaming the restaurant. What do you think I should do, Dotti? — Bobby in Petersburg

MARK in Washington.

Dear Bobby: I strongly advise you to let those poor, innocent folks at the Chinese restaurant take the blame for you. Good people like that will always find another customer. A butthead like you is never going to find another job!

Stunned farmer comes face-to-face with . . .

THE PANSY FROM PLANET X!

KENTUCKY FARMER James Swaize claims pansy alien made sexual advances toward him.

Space sissy just

By KEVIN CREED/Weekly World News

LEXINGTON, Ky. — For the third time in as many weeks, a gay space alien has tried to seduce a male human!

This time, the terrified recipient of the unwanted advances was a Kentucky farmer who describes the incident as "the most sickening and disturbing" of his life.

"He looked like a regular Earth man but he walked with these prissy little steps and swished his shoulders back and forth," says 38-year-old James Swaise of the May 17 encounter.

"He landed in the south meadow in a little round spacecraft just big enough for one person. He got out and started mincing up to where me, my family and six of my farmhands were working.

"He had something in his right hand and at first I thought it might be a ray gun or something. But as he got closer, I saw that it was a bunch of wild flowers he had picked from my field. He kept putting them up to his nose and sniffing them.

"It didn't seem to me like a manly thing to be doing.

"When he got close enough, we saw he wasn't really human. His skin was an off-green color and his arms were longer than a regular person's. They came down almost to his knees.

"There were eight other men there, my two sons — 18 and 19 — and my six employees. But the alien seemed to zero in on me.

"Without saying anything, he came over in front of me and did a girlish, mincing little dance for me.

"He tried to give me the flowers but I wouldn't take them. Then he put his filthy hands on me and tried to bring his lips up to mine. He kept putting his hands on me and I kept pushing them off.

"Finally, I got mad and punched him hard in the face. It didn't seem to hurt him physically, but he hung his head down and started making these whimpering, sobbing noises.

"Then he just walked back to his UFO, got in and took off."

Authorities have interviewed all nine witnesses — Swaise, his two sons and the six farmhands. All tell the same story.

One of the workers even made a sketch that portrays the effeminate humanoid with a baffled Swaise looking on.

UFO experts say that although close encounters with extraterrestrials are common place, up until recently, reports of homosexual E.T.s have been extremely rare.

The other two incidents — one reported in Bogota, Colombia, the other in Paris — occurred on May 1 and May 16 respectively.

3-year-old girl survives 12-mile ride — HANGING ONTO BUMPER OF DAD'S TRUCK!

SPANOLA, New Mexico — A nky 3-year-old girl secretly ched a ride on the back bumper er dad's truck and hung on for r life as it roared down the hway for 12 horrifying miles at eds up to 70 miles per hour.

The little angels were riding with me," ny Chelsea Tafoya, who escaped injury linging to the rear windshield wiper arm door handle of her s Ford Expedition.

er dad Lincoln was pletely unaware that sea — whom he and wife Judy affectionately the "wild kid" — was g on the back bumper e drove away from the y home to take four of the couple's eight dren to school in Pojoaque, 15 miles away just wanted to go for a ride," said sea, who apparently had seen one of the r kids sit on the back bumper earlier.

he ride might have ended in tragedy if or Connie Romero, who was driving to along State Road 30 when she saw ya's truck in front of her — and what ed like a mannequin on the back bumper

When she realized the "mannequin" was a real-life little girl, Romero frantically honked her horn and flashed her lights repeatedly for several miles trying to get Tafoya to stop. But he kept going.

She tried to pull up beside him on several occasions, but oncoming traffic prevented her from doing it.

Finally, Romero alerted the state police on her cellular phone and told them what was happening. Then she speeded up beside Tafoya in the passing lane and screamed that a child was clinging to the back bumper.

The horrified father finally stopped and was ecstatic to find that his little girl was scared but uninjured after the 12-mile ordeal.

LUCKY TO BE ALIVE: Thankful dad Lincoln Tafoya hugs his daughter Chelsea, after her horrifying experience.

Will you try my all natural all herbal SUPER FAT BURNER and ENERGIZER (with Chromium Picolinate) for just one month

Why not find out what it can do for you . . . by accepting the first full month supply of it FREE, plus two other FREE GIFTS for you!

In my business even at age 62 I still must look and feel younger than my years. You will truly love the results of this Super Fat Burner and Energizer. I promise you that it will change your metabolism and make you thinner and firmer naturally! Your body shape, size, and weight will change and your new energy level will come from the burning up of your stored fat! This is true for every body type and size.

Stimulate Your Good Fat To Attack Your Bad Fat

We now know for sure that thermogenesis can be directly stimulated by certain herbs. (Thermogenesis is the stimulation of brown fat (the good fat) burning off white fat (the bad fat). Brown fat is filled with blood vessels and fat burning cells and when stimulated burns stored white fat for heat and energy – as much as twice its weight in 24 hours. Stored white fat can only be used up by brown fat. The more brown fat that is stimulated, the more capacity and ability it has to burn off stored white fat instead of protein.

How Brown Good Fat Attacks Stored White Bad Fat Especially on Hips, Thighs, Stomach and Buttocks

A chain reaction from the fat burning herbs causes the norepinephrine to enter the brown (good) fat at a much higher activity level. This activates the burning off of thousands of calories by way of white fat cells. The metabolic rate is increased causing the white fat to burn quicker. Since brown fat is reluctant to burn protein for fuel it is now forced to burn stored white fat -- the very type of fat you want to get rid of on your body especially on your hips, thighs, stomach, and buttocks.

Lose 10-30-60 Pounds Or More With No Effort

The longer you take Oleda™ Super Fat Burner the more excess fat and fluids your body gets rid of and the firmer your body becomes. Oleda™ Super Fat Burner actually starts working in a day or two and you can lose between 6 and 10 pounds in a week. No other "rules" to go by except to take two pills a day. It may be the first time you are truly excited about a weight reduction pill and its real results.

"I'm 62 and look and feel 'fat'! I love my Fat Burner Pills It's Fantastic!" Barbara Oleda

Why Chromium Picolinate Is Added To This Weight Loss Herbal Formula

Most forms of chromium are not easily absorbed in the body. I have selected Chromium Picolinate because it's bioactive and is easily absorbed. It also has been shown to lower cholesterol among other health benefits.

Chromium, a trace mineral, is added to reduce the blood sugar levels in the body. This is accomplished by enhancing the effects of natural insulin in your body. Insulin is a hormone secreted by the pancreas and is mainly responsible for carbohydrate metabolism. Chromium helps convert sugar into energy rather than allow it to be stored away as white fat. Chromium also helps preserve and build muscle mass.

Will my son become a convict like his father?

AMERICA'S SEXIEST PSYCHIC

Serena Sabak

Our Dallas-based Serena help you! Write to her c/o Weekly World News, 600 E. Coast Ave., Lantana, Fla. 33464-0002. We'll forward your letters to her. Don't send money. Serena's advice is free. NOTE: Though she has her best, I would be responsible for Serena's prison or if the thousands of others she gets every week.

JANE in Michigan.

Dear Serena: I had a beautiful baby boy just four months ago and he is the joy of my life. But unfortunately his father has never seen him — because he started a 12-year prison sentence earlier this year.

What I'm wondering is whether my dear son is going to end up in prison like his dad. I worry about this because not only is my husband a convict, but so are two of his brothers and his father. I remember reading that a lot of people become criminals just because of heredity and I'm worried my son will end up behind bars too. I'll try to be a good mother but I know I can't be with my son every minute of his life. Please look into your crystal ball and tell me if he's going to end up in prison. — Jane in Michigan

Dear Jane: Your son will end up in jail — but only for one night. The only trouble he'll ever get into will be when he's arrested for drunken driving one night almost 25 years from now. Otherwise, your son will lead a clean and wonderful life — even though his father will be in jail for all but a few months of the next 40 years.

Dear Serena: I've always believed in reincarnation and that's part of the reason I'm afraid to get married. I have a terrible feeling my fiancé was my brother in a former life. I've dumped two other boyfriends for this very reason. But I really love this fellow and I don't want to ditch him unless you tell me we were blood relatives in a former life. What should I do? — Tammy in New York

TAMMY in New York.

Dear Tammy: You should go ahead and marry this man. My crystal ball tells me you were never related to him in a former life — but even if you were it would have been okay. Many happily married couples were relatives in a former life but they aren't doing anything wrong or illegal since they aren't blood relatives in this life.

Dear Serena: Why do all my relationships end up with me miserable and wishing I had never met the guy? I think I'm pretty easy to get along with and since I got regular work as a model I figure I'm not too bad looking. Some of my friends say I'm probably too sexually aggressive for some guys, but I don't know if that's possible. What can I do to get into better relationships? — Linda in Rhode Island

LINDA in Rhode Island.

Dear Linda: Let your mother set you up with that young man she has been talking about. You have been resisting her efforts, but if you just agree to go out with him one time, you won't be sorry.

Dear Serena: Why has my son stopped talking about school? Is he being bullied? Has he gotten a girl pregnant? Is he flunking out? Please help. — Concerned in Ohio

Dear Concerned: Your son dropped out of school last week. He has been hanging out with a bunch of kids who spend all day smoking and hanging out under a bridge. Act now if you want to save your son from a life of poverty and despair.

Dear Serena: Last month I lost more than $450 betting on wrestling matches with my friends. We always get together on Monday nights and watch the wrestling on TV and they always seem to pick the winners. Sometimes they let me bet just $10 to their $50, but I almost never win. Can you tell me who some of the winning wrestlers will be next week so I can get some of my money back? — Steve in Indiana

STEVE in Indiana.

Dear Steve: Stop betting on those matches. Many of those shows are taped several days before they air on TV and your friends read the results on the Internet. They are cheating you out of your money.

Dear Serena: Should I sell my car to my neighbor? The car has a lot of problems with it but she's offering me $2,600. That's about twice what I had hoped to get for it. Normally I'd do it in a second, but if the car breaks down I'm afraid I'd make an enemy out of my neighbor. What should I do? — Undecided in Maine

Dear Undecided: Don't do it. If she buys that car from you, she will be killed in a wreck within three weeks — and you will have a hard time living with the guilt.

What is your secret message from the Orient this week? It's easy and fun to decipher. Here's the key to decoding your message:

If the number of letters in your first name is 5 or less, subtract that number from 7. If there are more than 5 letters in your first name, subtract the total from 13.

Now take the result and find your key letter in the word ORIENT above. Starting at the upper left corner of the box below, check each one of your key letters as it appears from left to right. The letters below each of your letters spell out a coded message for you.

Weekly World News has purchased exclusive rights to the world's most powerful computer — and we use it to pick the six luckiest lottery numbers every week!

The Swiss-built computer, called Bright Green, has the ability to calculate which lottery numbers are most likely to come up each week, based on previous performance and established tendencies. The numbers are good for the week the NEWS is on the newsstand.

The computer scans all numbers selected in lotteries across America over the past year to provide a statistical base for predicting future results. More value is given to the most recently selected numbers.

Using all available data, the computer picks the luckiest numbers for each week. By sticking with

Woman confesses to 28-year secret — she murdered her mom back in 1971

NEWARK, N.J. — A family court judge has dismissed a murder charge against a mother of three who cops say confessed to a dark secret — killing her own mom 28 years ago when she was 14.

Susan Marie Watson, 41, just recently admitted she shot her mother Mayton Johnson in 1971. She told cops she did it because she says her mum's boyfriend was sexually abusing her — and her mother did nothing to stop it.

But Mrs. Watson, who is married, has three daughters and worked as a keyboard operator until her arrest, won't be going to prison for the crime. Family Court Judge Michael Degnan decided Mrs. Watson had been rehabilitated and dropped the murder charge after hearing hours of testimony from her family, friends, associates and the family's pastor.

The 28-year-old shooting may have gone unsolved forever if not for police detectives Rashid Sabur and Keith Sheppard, members of the department's cold-case squad.

The detectives dug out the old case files and their attention soonest turned to Mrs. Watson, who had moved to Schenectady, N.Y.

Officer Sabur sensed something was wrong as he read her interview cops did back in 1971. "One particular thing bothered me," he said. "There was a two-hour gap between the time of death and the arrival of police. Susan Marie was the only witness. She called police and implicated her mother's boyfriend as the shooter. He later was cleared and eventually the trail got cold."

The detectives decided to interview Mrs. Watson again — and got the confession. "We talked to her as friends and slowly she opened up," Sabur said. She eventually broke into tears and confessed, Sabur said. When her stunned husband asked why she had confessed her horrible secret to a pair of total strangers, she replied: "I trusted them."

. . . BUT JUDGE SAYS SHE'S BEEN GOOD EVER SINCE & LETS HER GO!

MAN GOES BERSERK BECAUSE COFFEE SHOP RAN OUT OF JELLY DOUGHNUTS!

NORDHORN, Germany — Hotheaded Gerhardt Hofe went berserk in a coffee shop, beating the owner unconscious and destroying $12,300 worth of property — because the shop was out of jelly doughnuts!

"When I told him we didn't have the kind he wanted, he just went nuts," blustered proprietor Arnold Meese, 41, recalled from his hospital bed. "He said he'd been dying for a jelly doughnut all day."

Burly Gerhardt, 34, could be sentenced to up to 15 years in prison for aggravated assault and malicious destruction of property.

RARE OYSTERS MAKE DIAMONDS INSTEAD OF PEARLS!

SCIENTIST Dr. Fitzhugh Chambers removes an uncut diamond from an oyster shell.

Japanese divers stunned by fantastic discovery!

AMAZING DIAMONDS have been tested and found to be genuine, high-grade gems.

By ANWAR BASARAH / Weekly World News

TOKYO — Astonished pearl divers say they've made an amazing discovery that promises to make them rich overnight: They've found a place off the south coast of Japan where oysters produce gleaming diamonds instead of pearls!

The secret location has already produced hundreds of oysters containing high-grade gems, and experts say that industrial pollutants dumped at the site may cause the marine marvels.

"We know that grains of sand irritate oysters and cause them to produce pearls," said Dr. Fitzhugh Chambers, a British scientist hired by the Pearl Divers' Association of Japan to study the bizarre phenomenon. "The diamonds appear to be caused by a similar process, in this case involving irritation by pollutants.

"We believe that toxic waste dumped in the sea gets into the oysters and stimulates them to produce beautiful, sparkling diamonds out of the poisonous matter," Dr. Chambers said. "They're talking about retiring.

"We've undertaken sophisticated tests of the gems and they are genuine, top-grade diamonds. They are bringing thousands of dollars on the diamond market.

"If we can figure out what causes oysters to make them, the knowledge would be worth a fortune."

How Do You Feel About the Size and Shape of Your Breasts?

BREAST ENHANCER™

For Women Who Have Always Dreamed About...

TERRIFIC BREASTS

You can increase the size and shape of your breasts, without the risk of hardening or loss of sensation - which are possible side effects of surgical augmentation (implants).

Are you one of the thousands of women who have wondered what it would be like to have bigger, firmer more shapely breasts? If you are, then chances are you have thought about having breast augmentation surgery (implants)... but you didn't want to take the medical risk and you didn't want to pay the high cost of the procedure.

You Have Choices:
Padded Bras, Silicone Inserts or Stuffing Your Bra

Up until now, your choices were limited to cover-up solutions. True, your breasts look larger in clothing... but when you removed the clothing, your breasts were still small.

Maybe you tried one of those hormone creams... hypnotism to grow breasts or just positive thinking? Were you successful? If you're reading this report, the answer is no.

Hormone imbalances can cause your breasts to stop growing before they reach full maturation... and taking synthetic hormones may help... but what about the side effects? You maybe better off with a padded bra.

Recently, natural product scientists and researchers have developed dietary food supplements that will actually increase the size of your breasts one full cup size or more. These products are sold on the internet and by multi-level marketing companies. They can cost as much as $250.00 for a one months supply.

There are others that cost $49. or more... but you have to take a minimum of 6 tablets a day for three months before you will see results.

They Look, Feel and Bounce Like Real Breasts... BECAUSE THEY ARE

If you would like to increase the size and shape of your breasts naturally and safely, then you may want to try "Breasts Enhancer™" the 100% natural, safe and effective alternative to implants, push-up or padded bras.

Noticeable Results are Guaranteed!

Breast Enhancer is a mixture of standardized herbal extracts, herbs and glandular ingredients. It is the strongest product of its kind on the market. Results are generally noticed within girls may take Breast Enhancer if they have gone through puberty.

Most woman can stop taking Breast Enhancer once they achieve their desired results. Normally, breast size changes monthly, but if you notice a consistent decrease after a month or two, you may need to take Breast Enhancer every other day to maintain results. Under normal conditions, there is no weight gain. Extremely underweight women may notice some weight gain which is actually body mass and muscle, and is natural and normal. Breast Enhancer will not interfere with the effectiveness of birth control pills.

...for years the sense of not having enough, and perhaps not being enough of a woman, stuck with me...
...more cleavage is an asset to me...
...I wanted to be more attractive in a bathing suit...now I am, it's great to be noticed
...I feel better, I have better self-esteem...
...I feel like I finally look how I always should have looked...
...bigger, perkier, softer, rounder breasts...

Tried, Tested, Trusted

Finally there is an alternative to push-up bras, padded bras, silicone inserts and surgical implants. If you are interested in Breast Enhancer and are concerned "What if it doesn't work for me... I don't care about anyone else" rest assured that there is a complete money back guarantee of your purchase price (less P&H). Why delay, order today and see visual results for yourself in just a short time. To order, fill out coupon and mail with your check or money order to the address below. YOU'VE COME A LONG WAY, BABY!

By LILA SCHVANDT
Weekly World News

MAGDA HAVASI weighed only 8 ounces when she was born four months premature. This photo was taken one month after her birth.

World's tiniest infant weighed just 8 ounces — now she's 5-foot-10, 168 pounds

BUDAPEST, Hungary — The world's tiniest baby has grown up — and up and up!

Hefty Magda Havasi weighed just 8 ounces when she was born in 1987 but today at 12 years old she is already 5-foot-10 and tips the scales at 168 pounds.

Doctors say the rich diet she was given as a preemie may have caused her to grow especially big later in life.

"She is so much bigger than other kids her age, but then she's smarter and more socially developed too," said her proud mother Jana. "And she's strong as an ox. She's on the city wrestling team and she's already beating women twice her age."

STRAPPING Magda is 12 now — and as healthy and happy as can be.

Magda was so tiny when she was born 128 days premature that her body fit snugly into the palm of her doctor's hand. Pediatricians did not expect her to survive, but incredibly, she was out of her incubator just five weeks after her birth and went home when she weighed only 5½ pounds.

Magda's survival was attributed in part to a special diet concocted by her doctors. The high-protein, high-fat formula was so rich in calories that she doubled her weight every few weeks.

The baby was kept on the special diet throughout her infancy and continued to gain weight at a phenomenal pace. When she was finally taken off the nutritious formula, she kept right on growing.

"The doctors say her body cells may have gotten so used to a super-rapid growth pattern that they simply continued developing at a phenomenal pace when she switched to a more normal diet," said Jana, a widowed bookkeeper.

"It's as if her metabolism is set at a certain rate now and it just keeps going.

"I don't mind the fact that my daughter is larger than life — in fact I love it. Every time I look at what a strapping child she is, I remember what she looked like when she was born. That my little mite could survive to be this big

CIRCUS ELEPHANTS STOP COPS FROM ARRESTING CLOWN!

By DANIEL CHEEVER / Weekly World News

AUGSBURG, Germany — Cops faced a huge problem when they tried to arrest circus clown Fritz Kloppen — who was surrounded by a herd of angry elephants ready to protect him.

The incredible scene unfolded when a brawl that began at a nearby tavern carried over onto the grounds of the Renz Circus.

Eight midway workers were involved in the bar fight, but the main troublemaker was world-famous clown Kloppen.

When a squad car arrived at the circus, two patrolmen tried to arrest Kloppen, who had retreated to the elephant compound.

The giant beasts had encircled their clown pal and refused to let cops near him.

"It was a very ticklish situation," Police Sgt. Hans Aibling said.

"Every time we tried to approach Kloppen, the elephants would become enraged and menacing. They raised their trunks, stomped their feet and made a godawful noise.

"Have you ever seen elephants ready to charge at the drop of a hat? It scared the daylights out of me, I'll tell you that. I thought we were going to be crushed flatter than pancakes."

When the terrified cops drew their guns and threatened to shoot the powerful pachyderms, circus hands formed a human chain around the elephants and shouted, "You'll have to kill us, too."

Police reinforcements finally arrived and resolved the standoff by turning several police dogs loose in the elephant compound.

The dogs barked and snapped at the heels of the huge animals until they slowly moved away from the clown.

"The dogs did what we just couldn't do," Sgt. Aibling said. "As soon as we saw an opening, we dashed in and grabbed Kloppen.

"He gave us no trouble, but I think he somehow got a bloody nose on the way to the jail van.

"He must have bumped into the door. We had to remove him from the scene fast."

Two of the officers received minor injuries in what was described as a wild scene on the circus grounds.

Kloppen and another circus worker were jailed on charges of assault, causing bodily injury, trespassing and damaging public property, all in connection with the tavern brawl.

Living wall of giants gives lawmen the greatest NO on Earth!

THESE Renz Circus elephants shielded their beloved clown from arrest.

Squirting ice water in patients' ears can stop manic depression

. . . says astonishing new theory!

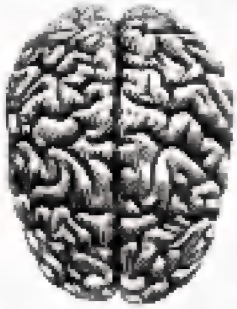
Weekly World News Medical Report

By MICHAEL FORSYTH
Weekly World News

BRISBANE, Australia — An astonishing scientific breakthrough offers new hope to millions who suffer from the nightmare of manic depression.

Neuroscientist Dr. Jack Pettigrew of Queensland University has discovered that people with the disorder, which causes extreme mood swings, have a sticky "switch" located deep in their brains. And that switch can be flipped simply by squirting ice water in the person's ear!

Doctors have long known that the right and left sides of human brain to a large degree function independently. The left side, for example, is responsible for language skills, while the right side is responsible for artistic abilities.



To a large degree the right & left sides of the human brain function independently.

In normal people, a built-in "switch" allows either the left or right hemisphere to take charge as needed during different mental tasks, with the sides constantly taking turns. Most people switch every few seconds. But in people with manic depression — or bi-polar disorder as it is now called by psychiatrists — one half of the brain becomes locked into the dominant position during periods of depression.

At other times, the other hemisphere becomes locked in during episodes of mania, discovered Dr. Pettigrew, who presented his findings at a recent meeting of the Society for Neuroscience in Los Angeles.

This, the expert believes, is why sufferers go through long periods of melancholy and low self-esteem, followed by stretches of extreme hyperactivity and delusions of invincibility.

"I think they have a sticky switch between the hemispheres," he told The New York Times. Dr. Pettigrew found that squirting a small amount of ice water into one ear seems to unstick the mental switch — and theoretically, could jolt the person out of their deeply entrenched mood.

"If you tilt a person's head 30 degrees to one side and put ice water into one ear, the opposite brain hemisphere will become activated," he said.

Cold water in the left ear, engaging the right hemisphere, might temporarily reduce the symptoms of mania, he said, while the blues might be temporarily relieved by placing water in the other ear.

Unfortunately, doctors say ice water isn't very practical as a method of treating the disorder, a condition that makes it very difficult for many sufferers to hold jobs and maintain relationships.

"Placing ice water in the ear can cause dizziness, nausea and other symptoms," Dr. Frederic Schiffer, a leading Harvard Medical School psychiatrist who also spoke at the conference, told Weekly World News.

But the basic principle that unsticking the mental switch can potentially relieve depression and mania is an important finding, experts agree. And if doctors can find a way to do it safely, they will have a powerful new treatment that could help cure such mental illnesses without the use of drugs, electric shock therapy or months of high-priced counseling sessions.

Gasoline prices to soar over $2 a gallon by July

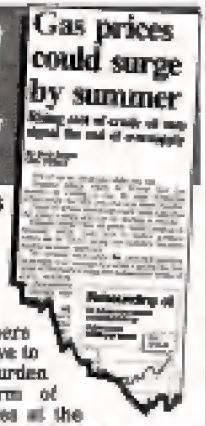
Get ready for gas prices to go through the roof!

Gasoline prices have been falling for two decades but they finally hit rock-bottom earlier this year. All the experts say the prices are going to bounce back up a lot faster than they went down — and could be more than $2 a gallon for regular and as much as $2.50 for premium.

Over the next three months the gasoline costs will climb as much as 15 percent, reliable analysts say.

It all goes back to crude oil prices, which have gone up 17 percent in the past few weeks — and all indicators point to costs going even higher.

As always, the big losers will be consumers who will have to bear the burden in the form of higher prices at the gas pump — just in time for the busy summer vacation season!



NEWSPAPERS around the country are reporting this story.

MEDICAL WARNING:

Doctors list the placement of ice water in the ear among what they call "noxious stimuli" — and caution that it can cause some patients to pass out. Do not attempt it except under a physician's supervision.

NUNSENSE! These sisters were innocently sunning their legs when they got caught by a narrow-minded bishop. The nuns have lost their jobs and are threatened with excommunication from the church.

NOT AMUSED: Catholic Bishop Enrique Caceres.

HOLY MOSES!

Nuns canned after bishop catches them sunning their legs

MEXICO CITY — Six nuns lost their jobs at St. Mary's Church when an angry bishop caught them sunning their legs on a grassy lawn near the parish chapel!

And far from getting off the hook with the mere loss of their jobs, the nuns now face an even stiffer punishment — excommunication from the Catholic Church itself.

By OSCAR ALVAREZ
Weekly World News

"I don't want to sound brazen, but all we did is show a little leg," Sister Emilia Mendez, 34, told reporters. "You'd think we were walking the streets for all the bishop is making it out to be. But our behavior was completely innocent, and we've got a snapshot of ourselves sunning ourselves that proves it.

"This is a ridiculous waste of church energy and church time," she continued.

"And I don't care what happens. Nobody will ever convince me that we did anything wrong.

"Nobody but Pope John Paul II himself — or God." The seemingly innocent but ultimately explosive drama unfolded when Sister Mendez and five other nuns decided to sit outdoors after a Sunday mass.

The day was hot, and, according to Sister Mendez, the women started talking about how nice it would be to bare their heavy black habits and sun their legs.

"The more we thought about the idea, the better it sounded — but nobody wanted to take the initiative and go first," said Sister Mendez.

"I finally said I would bare my legs if they'd follow suit. They said they would — and I did."

The sisters said they had sunned themselves for 15 minutes about a until Bishop Enrique Caceres emerged from the passenger seat and sternly ordered them to leave the premises, Sister Mendez said.

Bishop Caceres has been unavailable for comment but church officials confirmed that he "fired the nuns and is pursuing excommunication as further punishment for their unorthodox behavior."

Sister Mendez has appealed to Pope John Paul II at the Vatican to intervene on the nuns' behalf.

To date, however, there has been no response.

"If we aren't allowed to return to the parish our lives will lose all meaning," explained the sister.

"All that we can do now is

BIGFOOT: GENTLE or SATA

By MICHAEL FORSYTH / Weekly World News

Contrary to popular belief, Bigfoot is not a benign, gentle creature of the woods. The lumbering, ape-like man-beast is actually a demon from Hell — and so is lovable E.T., a researcher warns.

And there is more bad news: Satan is planning to trick millions of people around the world into going to Hell by beaming them up in his own fake version of the Rapture, according to Paul Christopher, author of the startling new book Alien Intervention.

The elusive Bigfoot, space aliens and many other mysterious beings are the advance guard of a vast Satanic invasion force waging a secret war on mankind, Christopher believes.

There's ample evidence that such beings are of supernatural origin, says the researcher, who has been investigating paranormal phenomena for 20 years.

"People have seen these strange creatures appear and disappear into thin air, as if they exist for a time in our reality and then vanish," Christopher told Weekly World News in an exclusive interview.

"Bizarre creatures that have made thousands of people's hair stand on end could be manifestations of certain demonic spirits."

Far more demons exist than most people believe — in fact, fully one-third of the fallen angels who were cast out of Heaven by God are on earth today, Christopher says.

"A 16th-century Protestant demonologist Johan Weyer (1515-1588) estimated that an army of 7,405,926 demons existed and were organized into 1,111 divisions of 6,666 each," he notes.

What's worse, as the new millennium approaches, reports of demon attacks are on the rise.

MYSTERY BEASTS or DEMONS?

Here, from researcher Paul Christopher, is a rogues' gallery of some "mystery creatures" that may in fact be demonic minions of Lucifer:

BLACK DOGS — Huge black dogs with glowing red eyes, first seen in France in 854 A.D. Reported subsequently in Mississippi, Pennsylvania, South Africa and Devonshire, England.

BIGFOOT — A large, hairy, ape-like beast also known as Sasquatch. The nocturnal, two-legged man-beast is usually seen in northwest United States and western Canada.

JERSEY DEVIL — A winged, hideous-looking cloven-hoofed creature approximately four feet tall, with glowing eyes. It has been seen in the — A 10-foot-tall creature with spade-shaped head and glowing eyes, first seen in Flatwoods, W. Va., and later in Quebec. Emits foul odor.

BEASTS OF EXMOOR — Giant black or tan cats seen throughout England since 1970s. Have reportedly torn the throats out of many sheep.

MOTHMAN — Dark, five to seven feet tall, winged humanoid with large, red, hypnotic eyes. Seen by more than 100 people in the Ohio River Valley and West Virginia. Often drinks blood of farm animals.

MOMO — Tall, hairy ape-man with pointed ears, first spotted in southeastern BIG BIRD — Not to be confused with the beloved Sesame Street character, Huge, grotesque black bird with a man's head and red eyes, known to haunt Texas.

DOVER DEMON — A creature approximately four feet tall with an oversized elongated head, long fingers and glowing red or green eyes, originally seen in Dover, Mass.

CHUPACABRAS — Small dinosaur-like vampiric beast that roams countryside of Puerto Rico. Name is Spanish for "goat-sucker," because of habit of attacking goats and sucking out all their blood. Also known to snack on numerous other animals — including [illegible] coming more and more prevalent. The supernatural world is intruding on the natural world," Christopher warns.

"Since 1970 in the northeastern United States alone, there has been an800 percent increase in demonic possession.

"Is this the ultimate Satanic strategy: Setting up his kingdom with thousands of demonically possessed earthly ambassadors?"

Demons can easily assume the form of friendly E.T.s to confuse humans — and can even create phony flying saucers, he adds. "These demonic entities have the ability to into our reality."

Most chilling of all, the author argues that the whole UFO phenomenon may simply be a ruse for the Prince of Lies to pull off his greatest snow job of all — conning millions of humans into becoming victims of a Satanic version of the Rapture foretold by the Holy Bible.

Many New Agers now believe that the world will soon be destroyed as the result of an Armageddon-type third world war, just as prophesied in the Bible's Book of Revelation. But just before Earth's final annihilation, thousands of alien spaceships will arrive to rescue deserv-

This corresponds to the Bible's teaching that shortly before the end of the world 144,000 chosen people will be whisked up to Heaven while still alive, and will thus escape the carnage.

"All spiritual leaders and teachers of the New Age movement will be the first ones beamed up to the spaceship," while other believers in the benevolence of extraterrestrials will follow, says Christopher.

But they will all be dupes — because the demon-built vessels will take them straight to Hell!

GIANT HOROSCOPE

By SERENA SABAK
PSYCHIC ASTROLOGER TO THE RICH AND FAMOUS

For the week of June 14

ARIES
Mar. 21 — Apr. 19

Take precautions against head injuries this week. Be wary of low-hanging branches, hanging planters and open cupboard doors.

A short trip may become necessary late in the week.

If you play your cards right, it should open the door for unexpected happiness.

Something small and green could bring a big change in your life.

TAURUS
Apr. 20 — May 20

The spotlight is on helping this week. Find ways to assist a family member in trouble and spend time with an elderly friend who desperately needs companionship.

Don't mix business and pleasure at this point. It could result in a serious misunderstanding — and a blow to your bank account.

Try something daring on Friday.

GEMINI
May 21 — June 20

This is an auspicious time for the restless Gemini to break into new fields, so enroll in vocational or college courses.

Communications skills are at an all-time high, so use them to win something you have always wanted.

Spend Saturday with a loved one and put past differences behind you. Now is a time for healing. Your lucky numbers this week are 9 and 16.

CANCER
June 21 — July 22

Play your cards close to the vest this week and avoid taking unnecessary chances, especially where love and money are concerned. Don't spend all, no matter how tempted you are.

Physical activities could help relieve tension and bring newfound friendships.

Bowling, walking and Jazzercise should be especially rewarding.

Look to numbers 11 and 22 for luck.

LEO
July 23 — Aug. 22

Make no major decisions this week if you can avoid them.

Set short-term goals for yourself and await cosmic changes (coming soon) before etching anything in stone.

Plan that for solitude this weekend. There are some things you need to think over by yourself.

An unexpected communication could bring a smile to your face.

VIRGO
Aug. 23 — Sept. 22

Go get 'em, Virgo! You should be literally bursting with energy this week, so put all that newfound vitality to use by tackling a major chore you've been putting off for way too long. You know what I mean.

Make that phone call you've been wanting to make. It is way, way past time.

Something blue could be extremely lucky for you this week.

LIBRA
Sept. 23 — Oct. 22

Someone you love is looking to you to help him (or her) out of a jam. Be compassionate and caring, but don't pull any punches when explaining how to put that person's life back in order.

Don't make any decisions in matters of the heart until later in the week. Your head should be clearer then.

Eight should be your lucky number this week.

SCORPIO
Oct. 23 — Nov. 21

A lot of false information and false signals could be coming your way this week, so take all communications with a grain of salt. Trust only those who have proven their love and loyalty.

A blue-eyed stranger could enter your life with a bang late in the week. Expect a rewarding friendship to follow.

Someone loves you more than you will ever know.

SAGITTARIUS
Nov. 22 — Dec. 21

Despite what you might think, you are a natural-born leader and now is the perfect time to put your leadership abilities to work. Take charge this week, and reap financial and emotional rewards in the future.

Alcohol and travel could be a dangerous combination on Thursday. Stay close to home if possible, whether drinking or not.

Look to a Taurus for comfort and advice now.

CAPRICORN
Dec. 22 — Jan. 19

Expect one surprise after another this week — and don't be shocked if someone presents you with some welcome financial news. Be on your toes so you don't let the opportunity slip through your fingers.

Someone attractive and charming has his (or her) eye on you so flash that brilliant smile at every turn.

Family problems should begin to work themselves out late in the week.

AQUARIUS
Jan. 20 — Feb. 18

Your compassionate nature sometimes draws you deep into other people's problems. This normally enviable quality could get you in trouble this week if you're not careful. To put it bluntly, this is a good time to mind your own business.

Take every opportunity to rest this week. You deserve it.

Good luck could come in the form of something shiny.

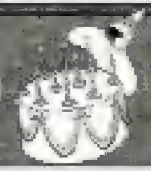
PISCES
Feb. 19 — Mar. 20

Bored, Pisces? Well, you won't be for long. Events begin unfolding this week that could plunge you into a period of heart-stopping adventure. Hang on tight, the ride is about to begin.

An attractive member of the opposite sex will play a most unexpected role in your life this week — and you may not even know it.

A small gamble could pay big rewards.

If your birthday is this week . . .



[illegible] physical problems [illegible] you in the fall/should give way to [illegible] in early and newfound [illegible] in early winter.

Finances should improve along with health. A word [illegible] stranger who greets you as a long lost friend, then tries to borrow money. Some time very exciting happens in fall and will affect your entire family.

Getting a pet can make your family closer!

Your lovable pooch or cuddly kitty can actually bring your family closer together, say experts.

Families with pets argue less, play together more — and are generally happier.

"The pet is a significant member of the family," said Dr. Ann Cain, who has made a study of 60 families who own pets. "Fifty-five percent of the people I studied said pets were 'very important' to the family. Many said their family life improved after they got a pet.

"They spend more time together as caring for the pet brought them closer. They played together more, because the pet gave their lives a new focus. People said pets made them happier," the doctor said. "And some people said their families argued less after they got a pet. One mother told me that whenever there's a family argument, her favorite comment is, 'Stop fighting — you're upsetting the dog.'"

Dr. Cain's research showed that pets are more important to people at certain times in their lives. "When people are sad, lonely or depressed, pets become very important. A loving dog or cat — or even a little hamster — can be very comforting to someone who's lonely. For the elderly, pets are excellent companions.

"Psychiatrists have used pets to treat very severely withdrawn patients with excellent results."

Pets can improve family relationships, agreed Dr. Aaron Katcher. "Pets can be a bridge for family members. The adolescent is a good example. Some adolescents have a great deal of difficulty dealing with their parents," the doctor said. "But if they and their parents can share a dog, it can bring them closer together."

New Poetry Contest $48,000.00 in Prizes

The International Library of Poetry to award 250 total prizes to amateur poets in coming months

The International Library of Poetry publishes the work of amateur poets in colorful hardbound anthologies like The Coming of Dawn*, pictured above. Each volume features poetry by a diverse mix of poets from all over the world.*

Owings Mills, Maryland – The International Library of Poetry has just announced that $48,000.00 in prizes will be awarded over the next 12 months in the brand new North American Open Amateur Poetry Contest. The deadline for entry into the contest is July 31, 1999. Another contest begins August 1, 1999. The contest is open to everyone and entry is free.

"We're especially looking for poems from new or unpublished poets," indicated Howard Ely, spokesperson for The International Library of Poetry. "We have a ten year history of awarding large prizes to talented poets who have never before won any type of writing competition."

How To Enter

Anyone may enter the competition simply by sending in only one original poem, any subject, any style, to:

The International Library of Poetry
Suite 63316
1 Poetry Plaza
Owings Mills, MD 21117-6282

Or enter online at www.poetry.com

The poem should be no more than 20 lines, and the poet's name and address must appear on the top of the page. Entries must be postmarked by July 31, 1999. "All poets who enter will receive a response concerning their artistry, usually within seven weeks," indicated Mr. Ely.

Possible Publication

Many submitted poems will also be considered for Poetry's forthcoming hardbound anthologies. Previous anthologies published by the organization have included On the Threshold of a Dream, Days of Future's Past, Of Diamonds and Rust, and Moments More to Go, among others.

"Our anthologies routinely sell out because they are truly enjoyable reading, and they are also a sought-after sourcebook for poetic talent," added Mr. Ely.

World's Largest Poetry Organization

Having awarded over $150,000.00 in prizes to poets worldwide in recent years, The International Library of Poetry, founded in 1982 to promote the artistic accomplishments of contemporary poets, is the largest organization of its kind in the world. Anthologies published by the organization have featured poems by more than 100,000 poets.

"We're always looking for new poetic talent," said Mr. Ely. "I hope you urge your readers to enter the contest. There is absolutely no obligation what-

MIAMI, Fla. — In one of the most incredible animal feats of all time, a pot-bellied pig walked nearly 2,200 miles to find the family that had lost her while on vacation!

Amy the Pig became separated from her owners in Tucson, Ariz., when the Fortner family was on vacation to California last July. Needless to say, the family was distraught at losing their beloved pet.

"We all loved Amy," said father Gig Fortner. "I don't know of many families that would take their pet pig on vacation with them but we had done it two or three times before.

"But this one time the worst happened and Amy got away at a rest stop."

The family spent an extra day in Tucson looking for the pig but eventually had to return to Miami.

"We were heartsick," said mother Lani Fortner. "Our 19-year-old son Andy barely spoke a word the whole way back to Miami."

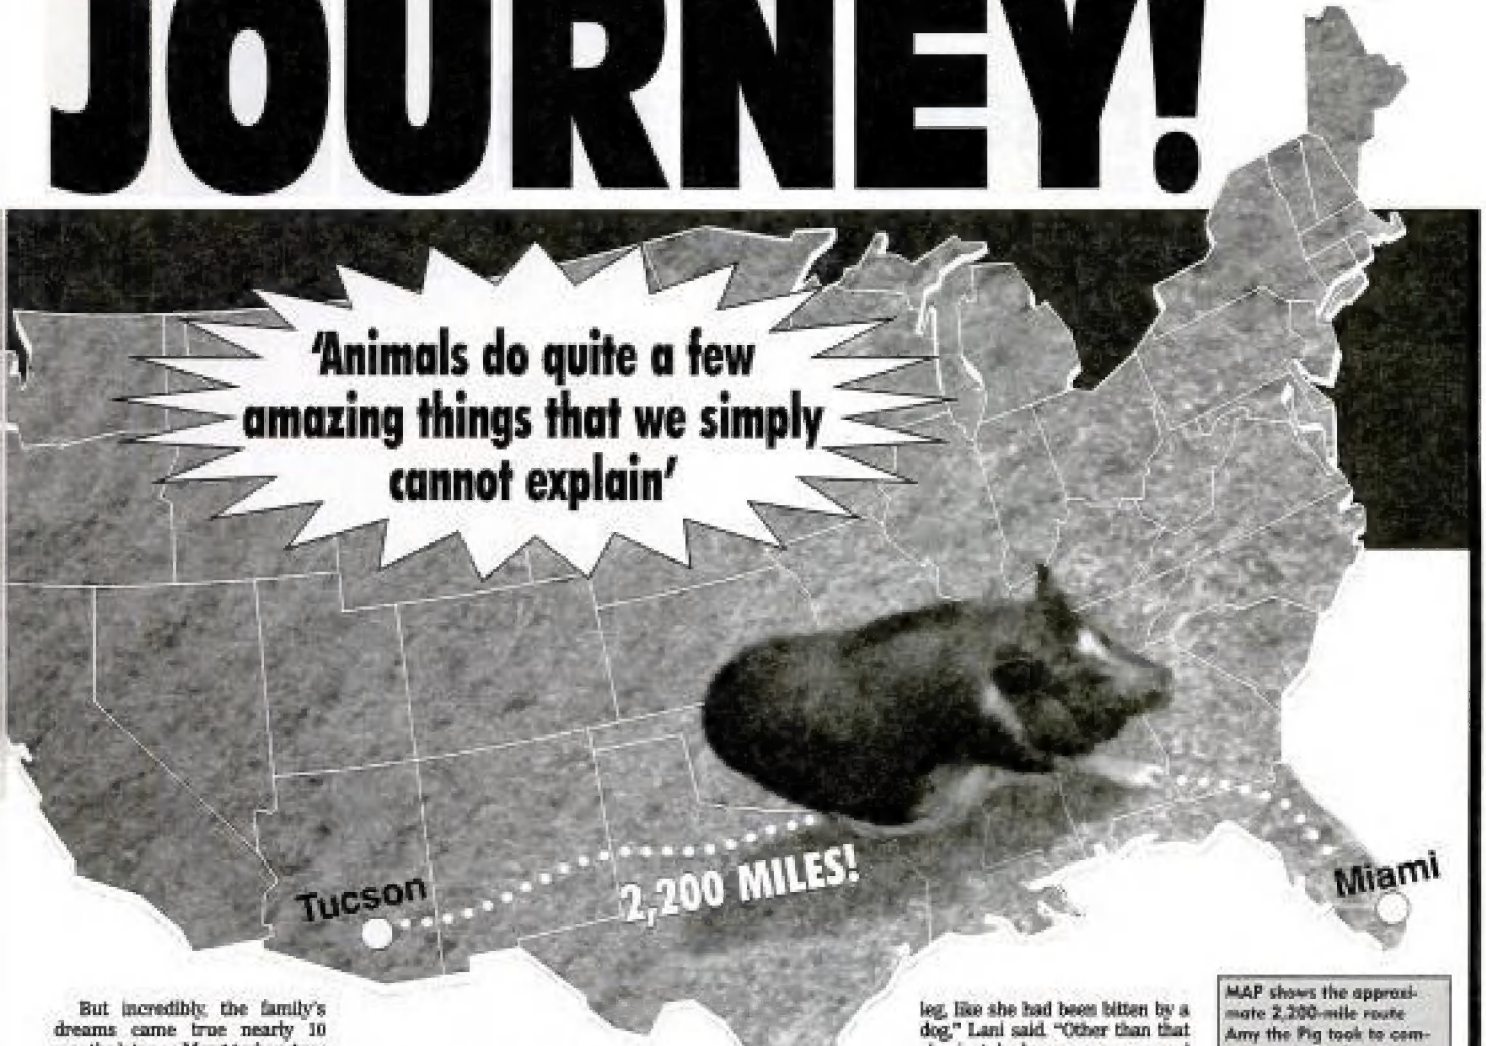
JOURNEY!



MAP shows the approximate 2,200-mile route Amy the Pig took to complete her homeward journey from Tucson to Miami.

But incredibly, the family's dreams came true nearly 10 months later on May 14 when Amy showed up at their Miami home.

"I couldn't believe my eyes," Lani said. "I was leaving for work one morning and there was Amy, sitting by the door."

Lani rushed back into the house to tell her son that Amy had arrived.

"Andy was overjoyed. We all were," she said. "I even called the office and took the day off work so I could be home with Amy."

When Gig came home that evening, he did some figuring that put the pig's amazing journey in perspective.

"I determined what day we were in Tucson and decided it took that pig 279 days to make it home from there," he said. "It's a 2,185-mile trip if you take the Interstate. That comes out to about eight miles a day."

Amy lost about 30 pounds during her cross-country trip and apparently got into at least one fight with a dog along the way. "She had a nasty wound on her right front leg, like she had been bitten by a dog," Lani said. "Other than that she just had some scrapes and bruises. And she's been eating like crazy so she's pretty much back to the 85 pounds she weighed before she got lost."

A veterinarian contacted by Weekly World News agreed a pig could make the amazing trip. "It's quite remarkable but I heard a story once of a pig that traveled 180 miles to find its owner," said the vet, who asked not to be identified. "If a pig can go that far, then why can't it go 2,200 miles?

"Animals do quite a few amazing things that we simply can't explain."

The Fortners celebrated the pig's return with a huge party.

If your hair doesn't grow fast enough...

Every woman who dreams of a long, full head of hair reaching down to her waist can get a bottle of Capilong PSB/33 worth $19.95 FOR FREE, but you must return the coupon below BEFORE midnight, July 2, 1999.

Developed in France by a French scientist following the discovery of a new growth molecule, this capillary treatment immediately encourages rapid growth. And produces an amazingly full head of hair. Proven results.

- Even if your hair barely grows at all right now...
- Even if your hair is fine and brittle...
- Even if you have already tried all sorts of lotions...

NEW: Improved Formula

Perfect for ALL types of hair: thin, thick, straight, curly, frizzy, tinted, dyed, bleached or permed hair.

"It's fantastic to have a beautiful head of hair, particularly when I never thought it would be possible."

Perhaps you have wondered why your hair is so fine and brittle? Why it doesn't naturally grow on its own to lengths of 20, 25, even 30 inches – like you've seen on other women?

The answer is: simply because your scalp lacks the nutritive substances for your hair roots to grow normally.

■ Scientifically proven

If your hair roots wither, your hair splits and growth is sparse. That's why you don't get the long flowing hair you want. Capilong PSB/33 now lets you remedy this deficiency.

1 Capilong PSB/33 frees clogged roots and nourishes each root with a powerful growth molecule.

2 This molecule feeds each root the same way fertilizer feeds a plant, and helps your hair grow faster.

■ Fast Results

You'll see your hair is thicker and fuller the very first week. In 2 or 3 weeks, you'll be able to measure your hair and see how much longer it's grown. Your friends, family, fellow workers, and everyone you meet will be impressed by this growth.

Moreover, Capilong PSB/33 contains the 100% natural protein compound called Nutrilans – to immediately make your hair richer, healthier, silkier and much fuller.

When he saw my hair grow 1½ inches in a month (and virtually double in volume) my hairdresser couldn't believe his eyes

"Last May, my best friend returned from Brazil. 'Try this on your hair,' she said. 'It will make it grow a couple of inches within two months.' And she gave me a bottle labelled Capilong PSB/33.

"I said: 'I don't believe in miracles.' She smiled and answered: 'I used to be like you. But look at my hair. It got thicker and thick in just one month. Anyway, what can you lose just by trying?'

"I said: 'OK!' But what happened next was incredible.

"At the end of one month, I couldn't believe it. My hair was far longer (1½ inches) than it had been before. Its volume had almost doubled. It was silkier. It was no longer brittle. When I brushed my hair, didn't comb out like it did before.

"I completed the treatment 2 months ago. My hair is the length I like now. It is so full I hardly ever go to my hairdresser any more. I wash and dry it... and that's all!

"Now, my hairdresser saw me again, he could hardly believe his eyes. He said: 'I've been working in the best salons for 11 years, but I've never seen anything like this. What did you do to get such beautiful hair?'

"Now people stop and stare at me as I walk through the streets. Many ask me what I did to have such beautiful hair.

"I think I can most modest when my boyfriend said: 'It's amazing. It's like your new head of hair has turned you into a younger woman.'" ■

■ How to use Capilong

With the applicator provided, place 15 drops of Capilong PSB/33 on your scalp every night before sleeping. Then softly massage it in. Hair specialists recommend you rub your hair much more gently than you would rub skin. Just place your fingers on your scalp and ease your scalp back and forth in small brisk motions, to stimulate blood flow. Accompanying instructions explain this simple process step by step.
